Battle

FURIOUSLY RAGES BETWEEN GERMANS AND ALLIED FORCES

Contest Is Proceeding From Basle, Switzerland, to Diest, Belgium, About 270 Miles — Germans Advancing Towards Brussels.

INVADERS PUNISHED BY THE BELGIAN ARMY

Germans Have Been Delayed for Days and Have Lost Heavily—Allied Forces in Position for Decisive Battle—The French Are Still Advancing in Alsace-Lorraine.

London, August 20.—(2:55 a. m.)—Dispatches from Brussels annouce that the British, French and Russian ministers, with their staffs, have left for Antwerp.

The Brussels correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says it is becoming practically impossible to get news away from Brussels as the censor forbids information concerning troop movements being published. However, it is certain that a tremendous battle is in progress within the area stretching from Diest and Tirlemont, as far as Givet.

"The general impression here is that no effort will be made to concentrate for the defense of Brussels, as the attacking German force would not be of sufficient strength to warrant such concentration."

Field Operations in Belgium.

A Havas dispatch from Brussels gives an official communication concerning the present state of field operations in Belgium.

"After having lost much time and a great number of men and, besides, important war material" the communication says, "the Prussian right wing has gained on both banks of the Meuse the ground to bring them into contact with the allies' armies.

"The German troops on the north bank of the Meuse comprise sections of different army corps, whose efforts have been directed toward capture of Liege and who are now disengaged. There also are bodies of cavalry, thanks to which the Germans have been able to make considerable disturbance and to extend themselves north and south.

"On the south the allied Belgian and French armies have repulsed them, but on the north, they have had a free field and could penetrate in small bodies far into the country.

"In a word, the Germans have taken a number of our positions, but have wasted fifteen days in arriving at this result, which is greatly to the honor of our army. It is not a question of single battle evolutions or captures of certain parts of the country or of towns. These matters are secondary in regard to the object assigned our troops in the general dispositions. This aim cannot be revealed and the most penetrating minds will be unable to discover it, owing to the necessarily vague particulars furnished concerning the operations.

Fighting on Whole Front.

"Fighting is proceeding on the whole front, extending from Basle, Switzerland, to Diest, Belgium, about 270 miles, and in these numerous contacts the more the opposing armies approach each other and the nearer come the deciding battles, the more one must expect to hear of advantage on this side and of yielding on that.

"In operations so vast and with those engaged using modern arms, too great attention must not be paid to the operations in our immediate vicinity. An evolution ordered in a previously determined aim is not necessarily a retreat. Engagements of the last few days have rendered our adversaries very circumspect. The delay of the enemy's advance had the greatest advantage for our general plans of operation.

"There is no need for us to play into the hands of the Germans. That is the motive of the movement now being carried out. Far from being beaten, we are making arrangements for beating the enemy under the best possible conditions. The public should in this matter place full confidence in the commander of the army and remain calm and trustful of the outcome. Meanwhile the newspapers should abstain from mentioning the movements of troops. Secrecy is essential to the success of our operations."

FRENCH TROOPS ON OFFENSIVE.

Paris, August 19.—(10:55 p. m.)—The following official statement was given out tonight:

"Latest advices are to the effect that

VICTORY FOR VINSON SEEMS TO BE ASSURED

Seven of the Twelve Counties in the District Are for Him.

Milledgeville, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—Indications are that Hon. Carl Vinson has carried seven out of the twelve counties in his district.

Sketch of Judge Vinson.

Judge Carl Vinson is a young man; in fact, the youngest candidate for any state or national office. He is now only 32 years old, and he has had somewhat a remarkable career.

He was born in Baldwin county, near Milledgeville, where his father was engaged in farming. When he was a child his father moved to Milledgeville, and there he attended the public schools, and while a school boy he became a carrier of newspapers, and by his energy and close application accumulated enough money to enable him to attend Mercer university, where he obtained his legal education. He returned to Milledgeville and was admitted to the bar when 21 years old, and became immediately a successful practitioner. He has been the solicitor of the county court of Baldwin; a member of the state legislature for two terms, and is now judge of the county court of Baldwin county, all of which positions he has filled with credit and distinction. He is also a member of the state executive committee, and in his short career he has become a strong influence in state and local affairs.

One of the distinctive traits of Judge Vinson's character is his untiring energy which he brings to bear on all his undertakings. He is a most vigorous campaigner and forceful orator.

GOV. SLATON GETS FULTON COUNTY BY LARGE PLURALITY

Hardwick Second, Felder Third—Harris Wins for Governor, With Anderson Next.

TREMENDOUS MAJORITY GIVEN JUDGE BROYLES

Andrews Leads Ticket for Legislature—Judge Spencer R. Atkinson and R. B. Blackburn Also Elected.

The following is the result in Fulton county of Wednesday's primary:

Judge Nat E. Harris had a plurality of 1,571 over Randolph Anderson. The vote in the gubernatorial contest was 4,626 for Harris, 3,055 for Anderson and 2,928 for Hardman.

In the contest for the long term senate seat between Senator Hoke Smith and former Governor Joseph M. Brown the former polled a majority of 5,849 votes. Fulton county gave Senator Smith 8,036 votes against Brown's 2,187.

Governor Slaton led the field in the race for the short term senate seat, his total vote being 5,266, or a plurality of 1,554 votes over Thomas W. Hardwick, his next nearest opponent. Hardwick's vote in the county wes 3,112. Felder trailed far behind with only 665 votes to his credit, Cooper was next with 460 and Hutchens last with 360.

Fulton returned Comptroller General Wright an easy winner over Roberts with a majority of 3,742. Wright's total vote was 7,044 against 3,302 for Roberts.

Walker Defeats Grice.

Walker, for attorney general, defeated the incumbent, Warren Grice, by a majority of 1,647. Walker polled 6,303 votes against Grice's 4,656.

Speer polled 5,772 votes against 4,635 for Park for state treasurer and was returned a winner by a majority of 1,137.

Superintendent of Education Brittain's majority of 4,743 votes over Bowden, returned him an easy winner.

Rainey's plurality over Flanders in the contest for railroad commissioner was 1,027. Rainey's total vote was 4,124, Flanders' 3,097 and Tippens' 1,966.

J. D. Price defeated J. J. Brown for commissioner of agriculture. Price's total vote was 6,101 against Brown's 2,192, a majority of 1,909.

Broyles Sweeps County.

Judge Nash Broyles swept the county with a total vote of 6,512, giving him a majority over the other two candidates of 2,588. Stephens' total vote was 2,582, Terrell's 1,342.

Paul Trammell defeated S. G. McLendon for railroad commissioner by a majority of 931. Trammell's total vote was 5,466, against McLendon's 5,706.

Andrews, Atkinson and Blackburn were elected to the legislature from Fulton county. Andrews received the highest vote, 8,909, Atkinson 8,577, Blackburn 5,926. Albright's vote was 5.706.

Judge Hill swamped Methvin in the race for superior court for the Atlanta district, the total vote being 7,668, against 2,589.

Wearer of Triple Crown Yields to Death

Pope Pius X Succumbs To Grief Over the War And Infirmities of Age

His Horror Over the Butchery Going on in Europe Credited With Causing the Final Crisis.

HIS SLEEP DISTURBED BY DREAMS OF CONFLICT

Just Before He Died He Said the Almighty Was Sparing Him From the Horrors Which Europe Is Undergoing.

Rome, August 20.—Pope Pius X died at 1:20 o'clock this morning. He had been ill for several days, but alarming symptoms did not develop until Wednesday morning. Throughout the day Drs. Marchiafava and Amici devoted their utmost energies to stimulating their patient and keeping him alive.

The cardinals were notified of the pope's grave condition and some of them who entered the sick room describe the scene as heart-rending, especially when the pontiff, rousing himself from time to time, spoke. Once he said: "In ancient times the pope by a word might have stayed the slaughter, but now he is impotent."

Prayers Said by Thousands.

Prayers were said by thousands and church bells sounded when the sacrament was exposed upon all the altars. When the court learned of the pope's condition there was the deepest concern. King Victor Emmanuel personally informed Queen Helena and the news was communicated to the Queen Mother.

Extreme unction was administered by Monsignor Zampini, sacristan to his holiness, amid a touching scene. The pope's sisters and his niece were overcome with grief. Cardinal Merry del Val knelt by the side of his bed, where other cardinals joined him, members of the household intoning prayers.

The dying pope, in a moment of lucidity, said:

"Now I begin to think as the end is approaching that the Almighty in His inexhaustible goodness wishes to spare me the horrors Europe is undergoing."

Grieved Over the War.

Grief over the war in Europe caused the pope much depression from the first outbreak, and several days ago symptoms appeared of the old bronchial affection from which the pontiff had suffered in times past.

On Tuesday Dr. Marchiafava announced that the pope was suffering from a simple cold and that possibly complete rest for a week would restore him to his usual health. The bronchial condition spread, however, and on Wednesday it was announced that the pope's condition was serious.

A bulletin issued at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon signed by Drs. Marchiafava and Amici gave the following explanation:

"The pope's condition grew worse during the night. This was due to the diffusion of the bronchitis to the lower lobe of the left lung. Symptoms of heart weakness became so threatening at 10:30 o'clock this morning that it was believed the pontiff's life was endangered. At 1:30 p. m. the symptoms were slightly improved, but still grave."

Dr. Marchiafava was able to leave

TRUNK AND BIG BOX FIGURE IN INNES CASE

Box Labelled "Books" Contained Sausage Grinder and Two Butcher Knives.

Another link has been added to the chain of circumstantial evidence that is being drawn around Victor E. Innes and his wife, who are suspected of being connected with the disappearance of Beatrice and Elois Nelms. District Attorney Linden, of Bexar county, Texas, yesterday found in San Francisco a huge box labeled "Books," which had been shipped by Innes from San Antonio in June.

The box, under orders from the district attorney, was opened. Instead of revealing books, it disclosed an enormous sausage grinder and two big butcher knives. Some feminine wearing apparel was also found among the contents. The box will be shipped to San Antonio at once for further investigation. It had been in the San Francisco office for a month or more, it is stated.

Another find of importance is the big trunk which Innes bought in San Antonio. This trunk has been located in Alpine, Texas, and will be sent at once to San Antonio for opening by Chief R. L. Barnes.

Nelms Has Evidence.

That Marshall Nelms has discovered strong evidence, strengthening the theory that Victor Innes had murdered Beatrice and Elois Nelms is indicated by the specific charge of poisoning which has been entered against Innes in the warrant which caused his arrest in Springfield, Ore., Tuesday night.

Whether or not Nelms has discovered the bodies of his sisters—no one will say. It is known, however, that sensational evidence has been unearthed against the Portland lawyer, which is being kept a secret. Nelms will leave for Springfield with Deputy Sheriff James Gailbreath, of San Antonio, to bring Innes and his wife to San Antonio for trial.

The warrant for Innes was received in Eugene, Oregon, late Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Innes has not been put under arrest as yet, but is being kept under surveillance. Her health is bad, and she insists that she is unable to leave the house. Innes is in the Eugene jail.

Charge Against Innes.

The specific charge embodied in the affidavit sworn by Marshall Nelms is "that Victor Innes and Mrs. Victor E. Innes, alias Mrs. Ida May Innes, alias Mrs. Margaret Mims, alias Mrs. M. M. Hardemann, in the county of Bexar and state of Texas, on or about the fifteenth of June, 1914, did, with malice aforethought, kill Elois Nelms-Dennis and

CONVENTION WILL DECIDE BETWEEN SLATON, HARDWICK AND THOMAS FELDER

The Governor Carried More Counties Than Either Opponent, But Not Enough to Be Chosen on First Ballot. Hardwick Comes Second and Felder Third.

HARRIS SURE WINNER; HARDMAN RAN SECOND

The Judge May Get Enough Convention Votes to Win on the First Ballot—Other Winners, Price, Broyles, Rainey, Trammell, Walker, Brittain, Speer and Wright.

THE WINNERS

United States Senator (long term)—Hoke Smith.

United States Senator (short term)—Will be decided by convention.

Governor — Judge N. E. Harris.

Attorney General—Clifford Walker.

State Treasurer — W. J. Speer.

Court of Appeals—Nash R. Broyles.

Commissioner of Agriculture—James D. Price.

Prison Commissioner—E. L. Rainey.

Railroad Commissioner — Paul Trammell.

State Superintendent of Education—M. L. Brittain.

Comptroller General W. A. Wright.

Senator Hoke Smith will continue to serve the state of Georgia in the United States senate; Governor John M. Slaton, Congressman T. W. Hardwick and Thomas S. Felder will fight it out in the convention for the short term; Judge Nat E. Harris will be the next governor og Georgia.

This in brief epitomizes the result of the state-wide primary which passed into history at 7 o'clock last night when the polls in the city districts closed.

STATEHOUSE OFFICIALS.

Of the statehouse officials, no new faces will be seen with the exception of Clifford Walker, who defeated Hon. Warren Grice, the incumbent, for attorney general.

Others who had opposition defeated their opponents and will remain in office for two years longer at the least.

Judge Nash R. Broyles, at present recorder of the city of Atlanta, defeated his opponents, A. W. Stephens and W. H. Terrell, by a big majority for the court of appeals.

NUMBER OF SURPRISES.

In a good many respects the primary ran true to the form of the political dopesters; in other respects this form was upset and surprises sprung.

For example, Thomas S. Felder ran a splendid race. He developed strength in many quarters conceded to either Hardwick or Slaton and ran a rattling good race.

Hardwick developed an amazing strength in doubtful counties in which the Slaton forces had recently been working.

But the surprise of the day was the wonderful race of Dr. L. G. Hardman. It had generally been conceded that the race for governor was between Judge N. E. Harris and J. Randolph Anderson. This dope was completely upset. Dr. Hardman ran a good second to Judge Harris and carried many counties which his opponents had strongly figured on.

CONVENTION VOTE OF CANDIDATES.

With only four counties, Dawson, Lincoln, Liberty and Towns, to be heard from, Slaton has 144 convention

EDWARDS IS ELECTED IN FIRST DISTRICT

Savannah, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—Complete reports show that Congressman Charles G. Edwards has been renominated in the first district by a sweeping majority. He carried nine out of the ten counties, the exception being Screven, the home of his opponent, Judge J. W. Overstreet. Mr. Edwards carried Chatham, Tattnall, McIntosh, Bulloch, Effingham, Bryan, Burke, Jenkins and Liberty by majorities ranging from 100 to 5,000.

Charles Gordon Edwards was born of democratic parents in Tattnall county, July 2, 1878. He is the son of Hon. and Mrs. Thomas J. Edwards, of Daisy. After preparing in the country schools of his county, Mr. Edwards attended Gordon institute at Barnsville, Agricultural college at Lake City, Fla., and the University of Georgia at Athens, graduating with B. L. from the latter institution June, 1898.

Mr. Edwards practiced law in Reidsville, and then in Savannah. He married Miss Ora Beach, daughter of the late Hon. and Mrs. W. W. Beach, of Waycross, December 17, 1902. He was elected as representative in congress from the First Georgia district in 1906, and has served the same constituency ever since without interruption. He has been most active in the interests of the people he represents.

How to Give Quinine to Children.

FEBRILINE is the trade-mark name given to an improved Quinine. It is a Tasteless Syrup, pleasant to take and does not disturb the stomach. Children take it and never know it is Quinine. Also especially adapted to adults who cannot take ordinary Quinine. Does not nauseate nor cause nervousness nor ringing in the head. Try it the next time you need Quinine for any purpose. Ask for 2-ounce original package. The name FEBRILINE is blown in bottle. 25 cents.

AT THE THEATERS

Crowds See "Spartacus."

(At the Grand.)

With the attendance increasing each day, "Spartacus," or the revolt of the gladiators, at the Grand, is proving the strongest attraction the popular photo playhouse de luxe has had in many weeks. A double love story involving attachments between Spartacus and the daughter of the Roman consul, and his own sister with a friend, for whom he has a deep affection, gives a romantic interest to the plot and serves for several dramatic scenes. A gladiatorial combat in the arena, the camp of the gladiators, after their escape, on the mountains and their descent over a precipice to attack the Roman soldiers, are among the more striking pictures shown. Four performances are given daily at 2, 4, 7 and 9 o'clock p. m.

French Mother Loses Four Sons; Proud to Give Them for France

Paris, August 19.—A woman who had four sons in the French army today walked slowly down the steps of one of the municipal offices where relatives are informed officially whether soldiers are dead, wounded, or unreported. She was exceedingly white, but her emotion was greater than could be expressed in tears. A friend came up quickly and said:

"Have you good news? I am so glad my Jean is safe."

"Yes, they are all safe," was the reply. "They are safe in the arms of the Father. I am proud to give all to the cause."

The restriction on military orders against the use of any foreign language in telephoning still is operative here.

Americans speaking with friends often, after a few words in imperfect French, lapse into their own tongue. Immediately they are interrupted with the court instruction that the use of a foreign language is not allowed. Then follow protests and expostulations, and finally the resumption of the conversation in French. It has sometimes happened that when Americans were talking in French, laboriously and to the best of their ability, they have been told to cease speaking in a foreign language. Explanations that French was being used would bring an apology, tinged with sarcasm.

Special orders have been issued permitting Ambassador Herrick to converse in English.

Grim Stories of Europe's War Related by American Refugees

New York, August 19.—First-hand narratives of the fight at Liege and grim stories of the war sweeping Europe, were told today by American refugees from the continent aboard the Red Star liner Finland, which arrived here. Many of the Americans were without money or baggage; some had been held as spies; others had made their way on foot from the interior of Belgium to Antwerp amid the scenes and range of warfare, and nearly all had encountered hardships in their flight.

Through Mine-Strewn Waters.

With a Dutch pilot aboard, Captain Barman steered his ship through a little-used channel of the harbor of Antwerp to the North sea, where he found the horizon smudged with the smoke of British battleships. In his perilous passage through the mine-strewn waters there were no buoys to guide him. His way lay over the shallows and he had to lighten the ship of all her water ballast to make the course. Time after time the ship was stopped by war vessels, although she flew the American flag.

James A. Patten, of Chicago, and Mrs. Patten, passengers, said they were in Carlsbad when war was declared between Germany and Russia. They left for Nuremberg, where they boarded a crowded train for Ostend, but got no farther than Boulogne. There they found themselves in a vortex of mobilizing troops. After long delay, they managed to get to the little town of Herbsthal, near the frontier.

"We managed to make our way into a little cafe," Mr. Patten said, "and there we got one slice of bread apiece—our first meal for the day. Next day I hired a horse and cart to take us over the Belgian frontier to Verviers. Three other Americans were with us.

"On the road was passed the most pitiful procession of German refugees fleeing from Belgium. Some were in vehicles, but the majority were trudging in the dust, pushing or pulling their baggage in carts. Women with babies at the breast were walking under the noonday sun.

Piles of Dynamite.

"From Verviers we proceeded by another cart toward Liege. We had not progressed three miles, when we came upon a party of Belgian engineers engaged in mining the road. They had great piles of dynamite stacked there ready to plant in the ditches they were digging across the roadway. They advised us we had better go to Liege by another road; we hastened to do so.

"Two hours later another party of Americans were halted at that very spot by a skirmish between the Belgians and Uhlans. They were forced to lie in a ditch while the Belgians fired over them. Next day 5,000 Germans were killed by the mines we had seen the engineers planting.

"We arrived at Liege at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of August 4, and managed to get a train for Brussels two hours later. But we did not leave before we heard the thunder of the forts' cannon repulsing the first onslaught of the Germans. The town was cold with fear."

Other passengers on board the Finland said that Mr. Patten had bought steamship tickets for nine stranded Americans.

E. R. Weeks, Jr., and his sister, Miss A. L. Weeks, of Spokane, Wash., told of the situation at Brussels on August 5, after the German troops had invaded Belgium.

Killing a German Spy.

They saw a squad of soldiers pursuing a man in uniform over the housetops, firing at him as they ran. One of the shots went true; the pursued man threw up his hands and pitched headlong from the top of a four-story building to the street. He was a German spy—the soldiers thought. A little later they saw a mob rip the clothing from another German suspect and beat him till soldiers wrested him away. Next day the victim was shot as a spy.

Ulrich Eck, of this city, said that at Dieppe he saw Chauncey M. Depew sitting on a flat car in a downpour of rain from 4 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

E. G. Treat, a banker, of Wheatsport, N. Y., who arrived yesterday on the steamer United States, was in Berlin the day after the emperor addressed the populace from the palace and said that he had heard the imperial chancellor talk to thousands who were gathered in the streets.

Thousands of Americans Are Stranded in London; War Levels All Barriers

London, August 19.—(8:35 p. m.)—Thousands of Americans gather daily at the Savoy Hotel, where the great ballroom and a score of tea rooms and private dining rooms have been turned over to American citizens and American residents' committees, which are providing for residents of the United States stranded in Europe.

Every morning when the doors of the relief headquarters open an army of American tourists rushes to the various information booths in search of information concerning sailings of steamers. Ten bankers and their clerks are kept constantly at work providing money for travelers with letters of credit while committees of representative men and women investigate credentials of persons who have exhausted their funds but hold tickets on steamship lines which have discontinued sailings.

A large postoffice force handles mail for the Americans. All letters and cablegrams sent in care of the American embassy are turned over to the relief committee.

All Travelers Are On Level.

Men and women of all ages, millionaires, workmen, school teachers and society leaders, dressed in elaborate Parisian gowns, move shoulder to shoulder in the crowd seeking assistance from the relief workers. The war has levelled all social barriers and put all travelers on one level.

Americans who struggle into London from Copenhagen, Rotterdam and Cherbourg are equally helpless. Most of them are provided with travelers' checks or letters of credit, which were of little use to them in Berlin, Geneva and Rome. From Austria, Switzerland, Germany and France, Americans have made their way to England as best they could. Few could get sleeping car accommodations and nearly all have lost their baggage. Many travelers who were touring on the continent in automobiles lost their cars and thankfully received such humble accommodations as they could get on the trip to London.

The transportation committee, headed by Joseph H. Day, is the center of greatest attraction in the ballroom at the Savoy. This committee gets the first information concerning additional sailings of steamships and supplies berths to Americans as rapidly as they are allotted by the steamship companies. With the annoucement of the English lines that their sailings soon would become virtually normal a cheerful air pervaded the relief headquarters.

Many Americans Sailing.

In a single day as many as 8,000 Americans have been cared for on ships sailing from Glasgow and Liverpool. Eighteen steamers, scheduled to sail within a single week, have booked about 20,000 American passengers, to the great satisfaction of tourists waiting their turn to sail for America.

Every time a sailing is arranged the fact is announced by a man who raps for silence in the ball room, filled with chattering Americans. Similar procedure is followed whenever a single berth is to be sold.

"I have a berth in the third class of the Adriatic for a lady," the man announced in typical auctioneer style, or, "I have two second-class berths on the New York for men."

Such announcements caused wild scrambles by anxious travelers who desire to lay first claim to the accommodations.

Many school teachers and other persons of refinement have been forced to accept steerage accommodations. A special registration booth is kept for school teachers and every effort is made to give them the first chances to sail because of the early opening of the schools in the United States.

"I have lost seven wardrobe trunks and three steamer trunks," exclaimed a gaudily-dressed matron with great haughtiness in the lost articles department of the committee.

"Put it on this slip and tell about them," a clerk replied, handing the woman a printed form.

All on the Same Footing.

The bediamoned and bejeweled tourists who attempt to get special favors at relief headquarters find their money or social position are of no value when they enter the mass of Americans, all standing on the same footing in the eyes of the committee workers.

A single train brought into London today 1,100 pieces of unclaimed baggage which had been assembled in Paris from various cities. The baggage is supposed to be the property of tourists in London. The London warehouses are rapidly filling up with lost baggage and the relief committee is doing everything possible to identify it.

The experiences of Mrs. Wheeler, wife of Post Wheeler, secretary of the American embassy at Tokio, and of Mrs. James, wife of United States Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky, are typical of those of thousands of American women who were on the continent when the war broke out.

Mrs. James and Mrs. Wheeler were with Mr. Wheeler on their way from Rome to Tokio, intending to proceed by way of the Siberian railway. Mobilization of troops delayed them in Austria and Germany. Finally they were turned back on the Russian border and taken to Berlin. They got out of Berlin on a special train provided by the Russian ambassador and reached Copenhagen. Thence they took passage on a small boat to the north coast of England.

SPLENDID WORK DONE BY ELMO MASSENGALE

One of the happiest men in Atlanta today is St. Elmo Massengale, who managed Judge Nat E. Harris' campaign in Fulton county.

It was Mr. Massengale's first experience in politics, all of his training being that of a business man.

When the Fulton County Harris club was organized he was elected chairman. He entered in on the work with characteristic vigor and enthusiasm, and the county was thoroughly organized and in a few days he had perfected a splendid organization.

At the time the Fulton County Harris club was organized it looked very much as if the county would go for Anderson. Mr. Massengale's splendid work played no small part in the splendid victory of Judge Harris in this county.

Velvet Joe
to the Rulers of Europe

NOBODY ever wins in a fight—th' feller that's licked is a long time gettin' the sore spots healed—an' thar's one left inside o' him that never heals.

Th' feller that thinks he won, gin'rally has t' buy a new hat an' suit, an' nobody sympathizes with him for his black eye.

Ef you'd jest set down an' smoke a few pipes o' VELVET together an' talk it over man t' man, instead o' army to army, thar wouldn't be no fight.

Senator Hoke Smith's House Was the Scene of Large Gathering.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, August 19.—(Special.) Returns of the Georgia election were being received with eagerness in several parts of Washington tonight.

Senator Hoke Smith's house in California street was the scene of a large gathering of Georgia friends, who met with confidence of the result and became more and more enthusiastic as the majority piled up. Representative Adamson's spacious offices in the capitol were the scene of another gathering.

Asked early in the evening for a statement for The Constitution when it seemed that his nomination was inevitable, Senator Smith said he preferred to wait and see the returns. Friends throughout the state kept him posted of the result in their own counties and his headquarters in Atlanta kept him informed by frequent bulletions of the general situation.

Waged Active Campaign.

Although engrossed with the duties of the senate, which he has not neglected, Senator Smith has waged an active campaign for months. He perfected an organization in almost every county and deluged the state with speeches and replies to campaign statements. No feature of a comprehensive campaign was overlooked by him.

Through it all Senator Smith took a leading part in perfecting the administration trust bills, putting through the Panama canal tolls repeal bill and the cotton futures bill to reform the cotton exchanges, advancing the good road bills and attending to the multitudinous requests of constituents. When the torch of war inflamed all Europe he immediately set to work to devise means to protect the southern cotton farmer from the serious loss which threatened because of the disruption of the cotton trade.

Visitors from Georgia and other cotton-growing states formally recognized the active work of Senator Smith and he was called upon several times to address these gatherings. He is still at work to further liberalize the national currency laws to permit larger loans to be made on cotton and also on a warehouse bill to give added value to this security.

CONVENTION WILL DECIDE THE SHORT TERM CONTEST

votes; Hardwick has 126, and Felder has 94; Hutchens has 8, and Cooper none. Necessary to elect, 187.

Not including the four counties named, Hoke Smith has 348 convention votes and Joseph M. Brown 16.

Judge Nat Harris has 204, Hardman 136, Anderson 24. It will be seen that Judge Harris will be elected on the first ballot.

The four counties not heard from are all two-vote counties.

The late returns for statehouse officers indicate the nomination of Clifford Walker, of Macon, by a large majority, over Warren Grice for attorney general. Mr. Grice made a good showing in his own home section, but in the rest of the state where he had done extensive campaigning, Mr. Walker far outdistanced him.

Comptroller General William A. Wright has carried practically every county in the state with the exception of Haralson, the home county of his opponent, and so far as is apparent from the returns at a late hour this morning, State Superintendent M. L. Brittain has gotten about every county in Georgia.

Speer Is Elected.

State Treasurer W. J. Speer is, beyond question, renominated over Lem Park, his opponent. Mr. Park has carried some few counties, but not enough to make any serious inroads upon Mr. Speer's political intrenchments.

There was, apparently from the returns, some little race between Railroad Commissioner Paul B. Trammell and Hon. S. Guyt McLendon, a former member of the commission. Mr. McLendon carried quite a number of counties, but not enough for success. Commissioner Trammell will remain on the board, backed by a good majority in the state convention.

It is rather an interesting fact that while Tippens, of Appling, seemed to be the most serious opponent of Prison Commissioner E. L. Rainey, Flanders carried a good many more counties than Tippens. But neither of them got anywhere near enough to interfere with Commissioner Rainey's succeeding himself on that board. He will go in with a splendid majority.

There was almost as much interest in the fight over the state court of appeals seat as there was in the governor's race. But Judge Nash R. Broyles, of the recorder's court, has won easily. He has far outdistanced his opponents, both of them Atlanta lawyers. Alex W. Stephens has carried a few counties, while none are reported for Terrell. The outlook is that Broyles has won a sweeping victory.

Commissioner of Agriculture J. D. Price has won a sweeping victory for renomination. The returns at 2 o'clock show that J. J. Brown has carried comparatively few counties. Mr. Price will go into the state convention that will put him through not only on the first ballot, but with something in the nature of an ovation.

Popular Vote of Candidates.

Of returns received from 100 counties the popular votes are as follows: Park 3,235, Speer 15,837, majority for Speer 12,602; Rainey 22,463, Tippens 1,623, majority for Rainey 20,840; Price 21,174, 2,038, majority for Price 19,136; Broyles 15,451, Stephens 4,288, majority for Broyles 11,163; Trammell 12,540, McLendon 4,644, majority for Trammell 7,896; Grice 4,344, Walker 25,737; majority for Walker 21,393; Roberts 1,000, Wright 28,608, major. for Wright 27,608.

CONVENTION WEEK SEPT. 1.

The state convention will meet in Macon September 1. There are 372 delegates to the convention and these will be elected by the county executive committees of the various counties from among the friends of the successful gubernatorial candidates in each county.

It requires 186 votes to nominate.

A point which will come up in the convention is, whether Bleckley and Wheeler counties, which had no representatives in the last legislature, owing to the fact that they were newly elected, shall be represented in the convention. Counties have representation in the convention in proportion to the number of representatives in the house. These two counties will have one representative each, and each will be entitled to two convention votes. It will be a matter for the convention to decide.

Weather Was Ideal.

Weather conditions throughout the state were ideal.

In practically every county of the state fair weather prevailed and this fact brought out an extremely large vote in the rural districts.

From all indications the vote among the farmers of the state was one of the largest on record.

Interest, which up to the very day of election seemed to be lacking, became red hot on the day of the primary.

Considering the extreme length of the ticket, the returns came in much earlier than is usually the case.

However, in the larger cities, the polls of which did not close until 7 o'clock, the returns were late in coming in.

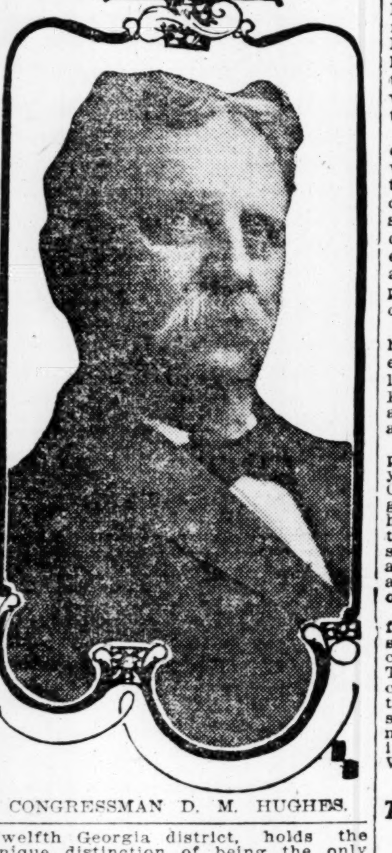
CONGRESSMAN HUGHES SWEEPS HIS DISTRICT

Dublin Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—Indications are that Congressman Dudley M. Hughes has carried every county in the Twelfth district. He was opposed by Judge Clements, of Eastman.

Dudley M. Hughes, of the new Twelfth Georgia district, holds the unique distinction of being the only man in the delegation from a great agricultural state who is a farmer. But Mr. Hughes is a farmer without other financial interests. His livelihood has always come from farms under his immediate management. Since his first election to congress he has been actively identified with every progressive piece of legislation calculated to advance the cause of agriculture, particularly recent legislation affecting the cotton-grower primarily. His long farming experience has enabled him to represent the cotton-growers before committees authoritatively.

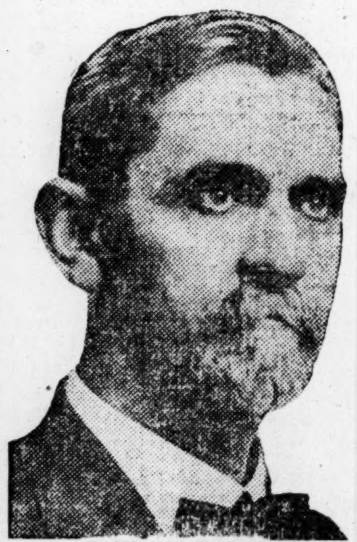
Under the democratic organization of the house Mr. Hughes was made chairman of the committee on education, from which has come the legislation on vocational education, which is regarded as one of the most important measures of the present session. Mr. Hughes played a most prominent part in getting this progressive idea crystallized into law. He is one of the most popular members in the house and musters much personal support behind the measures in which he is deeply interested.

This is Mr. Hughes' first campaign in the Twelfth district as the reappointment came after he had been nominated for a second term from the Third. Despite the fact that he had opposition in a new district he remained in Washington until all the important legislation with which his committees were charged was either enacted into law or so far advanced as to be assured of passage. His announcement was made only a few weeks ago and he has spent but little time in the district since its organization. Mr. Hughes resides at Danville, Twiggs county.



CONGRESSMAN D. M. HUGHES.

IS RE-ELECTED



PAUL TRAMMELL
Chosen for Railroad Commissioner Over Guyt McLendon.

EARLY END TO THE WAR PREDICTED BY WITTE

Paris, August 19.—A news dispatch from Tarbes quotes Count Witte, the Russian statesman, who is on his way from Biarritz to Russia as declaring that the European war would not last more than two or three months.

It was bound to end, he said, "in the downfall of Germany. The moment had come when Russia should intervene. Her mobilization had been carried out slowly, but surely and her army was certain to vanquish Germany whatever might happen."

RANDALL WALKER IS AGAIN RE-ELECTED

Defeats J. A. J. Henderson by a Good Majority, According to Early Returns.

Waycross, Ga., August 19.—(Special.) Indications are that Randall Walker is re-elected for congress over J. A. J. Henderson by a safe majority. He is leading in seven Ware precincts. Wire trouble caused by severe storm prevents getting returns from many counties and precincts.

Hon. J. Randall Walker is a native of Pierce county, Georgia, where he was born in 1874 on a farm, about twelve miles from Patterson. He received the rudiments of a common school education in the rural schools of Pierce county, working on the parental farm in the meantime, and being accustomed to all the hardships and pleasures of the average wiregrass country boy.

At 18 he obtained permission from his parents to leave home in order to endeavor to obtain an education, and later to prepare himself for the bar. He taught a number of rural schools, and with the money thus earned he attended school.

Returning to his native county, he practiced his profession for about two years, and in 1900 moved to Valdosta, Ga., where he has since resided, engaged in the practice of law. In 1906 he was elected one of the representatives from Lowndes in the general assembly and distinguished himself as a member of the regular session of 1907 and of the special and regular sessions of 1908.

When Hon. W. G. Brantley retired from congress in 1912, after serving sixteen years, Mr. Walker became a candidate to succeed him, having Judge T. A. Parker, who had been superior court judge in ten of the fifteen counties of the district as his opponent—a strong man with a large following and many friends. The canvass developed into a hard-fought contest, and Mr. Walker emerged therefrom victorious.

Beatrice Nelms by then and there administering poison.

Mrs. Nelms told reporters Wednesday afternoon that Marshall had traced the trunk Innes shipped from the house of mystery at No. 120 Wilkins avenue, San Antonio, to a little town called Alpine, Texas. It is being held there by the sheriff of Alpine. R. L. Barnes, chief of the San Antonio division secret service, has ordered it returned to San Antonio, where it will be opened and investigated. It is the theory of Nelms that this trunk contains parts of the dismembered bodies of the slain girls.

Will Bring Innes Back.

San Antonio, Texas, August 19.—(Special.)—Marshall Nelms and Deputy Sheriff Alphonso Newton will depart early tomorrow with requisition papers for the return of Victor Innes and wife, from Eugene, Oregon, to this city for trial, charged with the murder of Miss Beatrice Nelms and sister, Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis, here last June.

The requisition on the Governor of Oregon was issued by Governor O. B. Colquitt this afternoon. Nelms contends that he has obtained new evidence, which he thinks is sufficient to justify the issuance of the warrants. He refuses to disclose the nature of the information.

Issues Requisition Papers.

Austin, Texas, August 19.—Governor O. B. Colquitt here today issued requisition papers upon the governor of Oregon for the return to Texas of Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Innes, of Eugene, Ore., in connection with the disappearance of Miss Beatrice Nelms and her sister, Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis, of Atlanta, Ga., who have been missing since last June.

Governor Colquitt tonight said that in reply to his telegram the governor of Oregon telegraphed him saying he had ordered Innes held pending arrival of Texas officers. The telegram from Oregon did not mention Mrs. Innes, it was said.

Deputy Sheriff G. M. Millard, of Bexar county, in which San Antonio is located, received the requisition papers from Governor Colquitt and left here for San Antonio tonight.

It was stated that a deputy sheriff would leave San Antonio tomorrow for Oregon to return Innes and his wife to Texas. Marshall Nelms, brother of the missing women, will accompany the Texas officer.

Innes Under Arrest.

Eugene, Ore., August 19.—Victor E. Innes, who together with Mrs. Innes was arrested last night at his home near Deerhorn, this county, charged with murder in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis and Miss Beatrice Nelms, will remain in the Lane county jail until the requisition, granted today by Governor Colquitt, of Texas, arrives.

That he will make a strong fight against the writ was indicated today when he talked over the telephone with his attorney, John McCourt, of Portland.

Innes still refused to talk for publication other than to say that he knew Mrs. Dennis, having obtained a divorce for her in Nevada.

Mrs. Innes will be brought to Eugene tomorrow and placed in jail. She is being guarded at her home by a representative of the federal bureau of investigations.

BELL IS RE-ELECTED BY A GOOD MAJORITY

Early Returns Give Him the District Over Judge Charters.

Gainesville, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—Congressman Bell has carried his district by a safe majority. He was opposed by Judge Charters and the fight was one of the bitterest in many years.

CONGRESSMAN THOMAS M. BELL, of the Ninth District.

BISHOP ISSUES APPEAL FOR WAR RELIEF FUND

Jackson, Miss., August 19.—Bishop W. L. Lambuth, of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, has issued an appeal to the Methodists of the south for a fund of at least $1,000 to be sent to the queen of Belgium for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers.

In his appeal Bishop Lambuth says that it was the present king of Belgium who reversed the "red rubber" policy in the Congo, and that the queen, out of her own purse, met the expense of sending wives of many Belgium officers to the Congo, that they might help build up homes and advance civilization.

ADAMSON IS WINNER IN FOURTH DISTRICT

Early Returns Give Him Good Majority Over W. C. Wright.

Columbus, Ga., August 19.—(Special.) Early returns indicate the nomination of Congressman W. C. Adamson over W. C. Wright. Judge Adamson has Muscogee by a good majority and indications are that he carried every county in the lower half of the district by a comfortable majority, with the possible exception of Talbot.

HIT BY A STREET CAR, AUTO BADLY DAMAGED

P. B. Pearson and daughter, Miss Margaret, of 12 Kent street, narrowly escaped fatal injuries yesterday afternoon when their automobile was hit by a street car on the steep hill at Washington and Rawson. Mr. Pearson noticed the car bearing down on him, but states that he did not have time to turn to the right. His machine was carried nearly twenty feet by the collision.

The automobile, Pearson says, was damaged by the impact with the street car to the extent of $500.

HAMMOND IS ELECTED JUDGE IN AUGUSTA

Harlem, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—Judge H. C. Hammond is elected judge of Augusta circuit by a small majority. The race for congress is close. Reynolds has a majority in Columbia for congress from the Tenth. Ballard is representative.

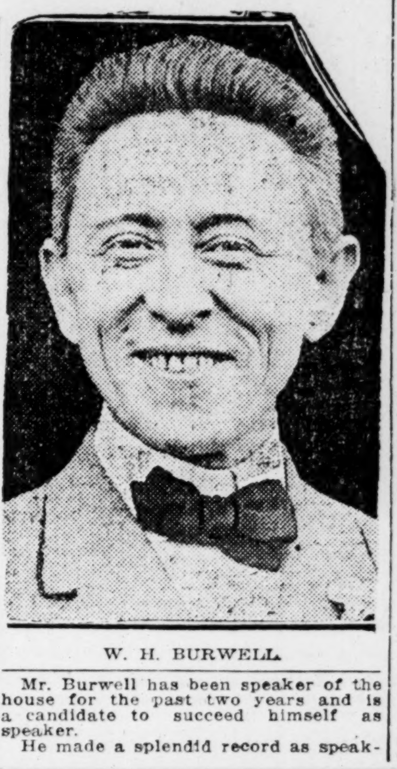
BROTHER OF THE CZAR ON THE FIGHTING LINE

London, August 19.—According to advices received here from St. Petersburg, Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, a brother of Emperor Nicholas, has left St. Petersburg to join the Russian fighting line.

BURWELL IS RE-ELECTED; IS IN SPEAKER'S RACE

Popular Representative From Hancock County Will Return to the Legislature.

Hon. W. H. Burwell, of Sparta, Hancock county, was re-elected to the house of representatives Wednesday.



W. H. BURWELL.

Mr. Burwell has been speaker of the house for the past two years and is a candidate to succeed himself as speaker.

He made a splendid record as speaker and just prior to the adjournment of the last session his friends claimed for him 110 pledged votes.

Mr. Burwell is personally very popular in Atlanta and his return to the house is the source of a great deal of pleasure to his friends.

POPE EXHORTS WORLD TO PRAY FOR PEACE

He Was Much Moved When Told of the Cannonading in the Adriatic.

Rome, August 19.—(Via London.)—Only a few hours before his death, the pope addressed the following exhortation to the whole world:

"At this moment when nearly the whole of Europe is being dragged into the vortex of a most terrible war with its present dangers and miseries and the consequences to follow, the very thought of which must strike everyone with grief and horror, we, whose care is the life and welfare of so many citizens and peoples, cannot but be deeply moved and our heart wrung with the bitterest sorrow.

"And in the midst of this universal confusion and peril we feel and know that both fatherly love and apostolic ministry demand of us that we should with all earnestness turn the thoughts of Christendom thither 'Whence Cometh Help'—to Christ, the Prince of Peace and the most powerful mediator between God and man.

"We charge, therefore, the Catholics of the whole world to approach the throne of grace and mercy, each and all of them and more especially the clergy, whose duty furthermore it will be to make in every parish, as their bishops shall direct, public supplication so that the merciful God may, as it were, be wearied with the prayers of His children and speedily remove the evil causes of war, giving to them who rule to think the thoughts of peace and not of affliction.

"From the palace of the vatican, the second day of August, 1914.

"PIUS X., PONTIFOX MAXIMUS."

The pope was much moved upon hearing from Venice echoes of the cannonade in the Adriatic.

"The bones of the Doges must thrill in their sepulchres at the familiar sound of battle, recalling the heroic days of old," he said.

The Secret of Health is Elimination of Waste

Every business man knows how difficult it is to keep the pigeon holes and drawers of his desk free from the accumulation of useless papers. Every housewife knows how difficult it is to keep her home free from the accumulation of all manner of useless things. So it is with the body. It is difficult to keep it free from the accumulation of waste matter. Unless the waste is promptly eliminated the machinery of the body soon becomes clogged. This is the beginning of most human ills.

RUSSIANS LOSE TO GERMANS.

London, August 19.—(8:40 p. m.)—A dispatch received today by the Marconi wireless press bureau from Berlin says in an encounter near Stallupohnen, East Prussia, August 17, a division of the German First army corps defeated a Russian force, capturing 1,000 prisoners and six machine guns. Many Russian guns which could not be taken by the Germans were destroyed.

BATTLE IS RAGING ALONG ENTIRE FRONT

the French army has reached Morhange (Morchingen) in Alsace-Lorraine, 19 miles southeast of Metz. Our advance was very rapid in the afternoon beyond the river Seille. At the end of the day we reached Delme, on one side and Morhange on the other.

"There is little change in the situation in upper Alsace. We continue to advance in Vosges. The Germans have retaken the village of Ville. Our troops have occupied Chateau Salins and Dieuze, but face well fortified and strongly held positions.

"Our cavalfy has had a successful encounter with the Germans at Florenville, Belgium. Large German forces, it is announced, are crossing the Meuse between Liege and Namur.

"One of the French brigadiers has asked the commander-in-chief to make public the following fact:

" 'A French Hussar made prisoner was dragged by German soldiers into an Alsatian village and his throat was cut before the villagers, who testify to the deed.' "

U. S. EXPERT ON SITUATION.

London, August 19.—(Midnight.)—An American military expert reviewing the situation in Belgium, said tonight: "I left Brussels today. There was a good deal of agitation there, as the people thought the Germans very near and there had been fighting at Tirlemont. A good many refugees had come in from Tirlemont and Louvain.

"The people kept quiet, though they were filled with suspense. owing to rumors. The impression was that the Germans, after making reconnaissances in force and scouting the country to the north of Brussels with cavalry, were about to advance in force on Brussels. The population had been told by the burgomaster that if the Germans came they should remain indoors and go on as far as possible with their usual vocations.

"Brussels is an unfortified city, but within the last three or four days every important street leading out of the town has been barricaded. Trenches have been dug in the outskirts with barbed wire entanglements in front of them. These defenses, however, are intended only for protection against a cavalry raid. They would be futile against any attack in force."

Germans Have Suffered.

"Any battle for the actual possession of Brussels will be fought in the direction of Wavre and Louvain. If the Germans take Brussels, it does not mean a military setback for the allies, beyond its sentimental effect, and opinion in Brussels was that owing to French successes in Alsace and the check the German right wing has suffered in Belgium, something must be done which would have at least the form of success.

Brussels apparently is not unduly scared. The shops are open; the street cars and taxi-cabs are running and the newspapers are appearing regularly.

"There is no sign of alarm and the staff states that the situation is excellent.

"The people will submit to the Germans without any demonstration. They have confidence that the British and French will eventually drive the Germans out of Belgium.

"The Belgian officials are warning the people not to attempt reprisals because that would bring reprisals on them.

"You can hear any kind of rumor in Brussels, and if the Germans are determined to attack in force, Brussels will be taken unless the allies decide to resist.

Germans Using Cavalry.

"The Germans have been using their cavalry with great audacity and sometimes with more audacity than success. They have sent their cavalry as scouts in all directions and some reported battles have been no more than reconnoissances in force. They either were aiming to cover their flank by these continuous threats, or else were ascertaining the Belgian positions with a view to attacking in the force.

"The honors are with the Belgians in these combats. Their bicycle corps have responded instantly to the alarms. The country is wholly unsuited to reconnoissances, as it is cut with hedges and sunken roads. There is rarely a field of ten acres which would permit of a charge.

"Using telephones, which, with automobiles, have become such an important adjunct of war, the Belgians are able to give the alarm instantly the Germans appeared. Then the cycle corps, directed to the point and laying in concealment, catches the Germans with deadly fire, frequently at close quarters.

AUSTRIANS HARD PRESSED.

London, August 19.—(9:10 a. m.)—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Rome, sent from that city yesterday, says that a message from Cettinje states that the Montenegrin army is within two hours' march of Ragusa, a fortified seaport of Austria-Hungary in Dalmatia, 38 miles northwest of Cattaro.

King Nicholas, the message adds, has been notified by the Austrian authorities that if his army attacks the large number of prominent Servians and Montenegrians held at Ragua as hostages, will be shot. Among the hostages is Count Ivo Vopiovic, a brother of King Nicholas.

An official communication received here from Paris declares that confirmation is at hand of previous reports of a Servian victory at Shabats over 80,000 Austrians.

The Austrians suffered a severe defeat, with very heavy losses in men and munitions. According to advices from Rome their casualties amounted to 3,000 men killed and 5,000 wounded.

PRESTON AND LAWYER MUST FACE RECORDER

Recorder Pro Tem. Gives Account of the Difficulty in Card to Constitution.

Judge W. H. Preston, recorder pro tem. of police court, and Attorney C. P. Sims, who engaged in a lively tilt in police court Tuesday afternoon, which was stopped by the interference of court attaches, were each served on Wednesday with a copy of charges to appear in police court Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock to answer charges of disorderly conduct.

Chief Beavers first heard of the courtroom row through the columns of The Constitution. He called into his offices the court bailiffs and questioned them regarding the reported scene. He then ordered that a police case of disorderly conduct be made against both the attorney and Judge Preston.

Judge Preston issues the following account of the difficulty between himself and the attorney:

Editor Constitution:

I want to give you the facts in regard to the little incident that occurred in the courtroom yesterday evening after court.

A few nights ago a man by the name of Sims, a police court lawyer, who came here recently from South Carolina, came to my house to have a bond approved in a "blind tiger" case. One of the bondsmen came along and the other bondsman who had signed I did not know. Mr. Sims assured me if I would approve the bond he would bring the other bondsman to the courtroom and let me examine him as to his ownership of real estate.

Sims never brought the man, and I know nothing about the man who signed the bond.

Yesterday afternoon after court had adjourned this man Sims came to me with another bond for a "blind tiger" case for me to approve. I told him he had deceived me in one case and I ought not approve this bond.

He became very angry because I said he had deceived me and wanted to fight me. He said he could whip me and dared me out into the street to fight.

I told him that it was not necessary for me to go out into the street; that if he wanted to whip me he could try it in the courtroom in private. I stepped down off of the platform to give him a chance, when Mr. Arthur, special officer, and Court Bailiff, George Corgett, who happened to be in the courtroom, stepped before me, and I came back and sat down and approved the bond for another lawyer. That is all there was to it. Respectfully,

W. H. PRESTON.

TRAIN HITS AUTO, KILLING ONE MAN, INJURING ANOTHER

Augusta, Ga., August 19.—(Special.) Lawton Bergeron, of Hephzibah, was instantly killed and John Skinner sustained painful, though not necessarily serious, injuries last night when the two-passenger car in which they were riding collided with the incoming train on the Augusta Southern at the five-mile post in the vicinity of Double Branches.

The engineer of the train states that he did not see the auto until after the crash, when he applied the airbrakes and stopped the train. The train brought both Bergeron and Skinner into the city, the latter being rushed to a hospital.

NEGRO ORDER BEGINS ANNUAL CONVENTION

The Independent Order of Colored Men and Women of America convened in Schell's hall, West Mitchell and Haynes streets, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. J. T. Wilkinson, Book steward of the A. M. E. church, grand master, in charge; John W. Mosely, secretary; J. O. Ross, treasurer; Mary Harris, chairman special committee.

A hundred and eighteen delegates, beside special officers, compose the body that will hold day and night sessions. They represent 7,218 members. The organization is holding its twenty-first annual session.

Some of the important committees which the chairman announced were: "Education," "Moral Status of the Negro," "State of the Country," "How to Save the Boys and Girls from the Slums and Bad Lands," and "How to Establish Friendly Relations between the Two Races in the South."

President W. A. Fountain, of Morris Brown college, addressed the body last night, on "What it Takes to Make a Man." Richard D. Stinson of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial Institute, speaks Thursday night, on "Practical Education for the Masses." Bishop J. S. Flipper, head of the A. M. E. church in Georgia, speaks Friday night.

DIVERSITY OF VIEWS ON LABOR EXEMPTION

Washington, August 19.—Diversity of views as to the exemption of labor and agricultural organizations from the operations of anti-trust laws blocked the progress of the Clayton anti-trust bill in the senate today. The only vote taken resulted in striking out of the bill as it came from the house the provision exempting consumers' organizations.

Senator McCumber attacked the labor and agricultural exemptions as class legislation. Senators Hollis and Hughes replied, the latter asserting that the republican party in its protective tariffs had been noted for passing class legislation.

Senator Borah urged the folly of limiting the power of the courts to grant injunctions in labor disputes. He cited the attempts made in West Virginia and Colorado to settle labor disputes by bloodshed instead of by the courts.

Senator Cummins announced he would offer a substitute for the paragraph exempting labor and agricultural organizations.

METHODISTS TO FIGHT HIGHER LIQUOR TAX

Topeka, Kans., August 19.—Asking them to unite in vigorous opposition to any effort to increase the federal tax on liquors, a call was sent today to 17,000 pastors of Methodist churches in the United States from the secretary of the temperance society of the Methodist church.

"Any extension of this iniquitous participation in the profits of a vicious and inherently criminal trade will be fought to the last ditch by every church member who realizes its shameful nature," said Clarence True Wilson, general secretary. "Doubling of the federal tax on liquors will quadruple the difficulties now facing the Hobson-Shepherd prohibition amendment bill."

Officers of the society asserted that if it were not for the federal liquor revenue act of 1863 legalizing liquor trade would have been abolished long ago.

THOMASVILLE COUNCIL AND TREASURER AGREED

Thomasville, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—The trouble between City Treasurer J. W. H. Mitchell and the city council of Thomasville has been amicably adjusted, the treasurer agreeing to sign the warrant for transferring the school bonds to the sinking fund of the city with the understanding that council would not hold him responsible for any damages as to his bond in the matter.

Agreement in the matter was reached after a somewhat extended discussion between Mr. Mitchell and the council and after various plans had been suggested and rejected. The matter stands now that Mr. Mitchell agrees to pay out $20,500 from the sinking fund of the city for that amount of the school bond issue which will be transferred to the sinking fund.

INSURANCE AGENTS GATHER HERE TODAY

Luncheon and Baseball Game for Members of the Anniversary Club.

The seventh annual convention of the Anniversary Club of the Southern States Life Insurance company, whose headquarters are in the Candler building, will begin this morning in the assembly room of the Piedmont Hotel at 10:30 o'clock.

The membership in this club is composed of those agents throughout the south representing this company, who have during the year previous to June 30th, written over one hundred thousand dollars' worth of paid-for insurance. The members writing the largest amount over this sum is president, the next largest carries with it the vice presidency and the leader in each state becomes state vice president.

The officers of the club so elected for 1914-15 are as follows: J. C. Walden, Sr., Alabama, president; L. E. Black, Jr., Georgia, vice president, and the state vice presidents are as follows: Alabama, H. Clay Smith; Georgia, Joe W. Benson; Florida, C. W. LaPitz; South Carolina, G. J. McDowell. The other members of the club are: Willis Hogg, F. E. Broadnax, C. S. Wilcox, Thos. Peters, Jr., C. S. Gurr, J. R. Monroe, Frank Leigh, Fred Hines, B. B. Murray, J. T. Weems and Geo. Y. Browne.

In addition there will be present the members of the Field Club, who by writing a certain amount of business, attend the convention as invited guests, but have no voice in the proceedings of the convention.

The members of the Field Club are as follows: Arthur Chairs, W. S. Cogburn, E. E. Cook, C. H. Jackson, J. W. Ragsdale, R. K. Shaw, L. E. Whittle, M. R. White and Geo. F. Lee.

Following the business session, the members will be entertained at a luncheon at the Capital City club and will attend the baseball game in the afternoon.

Friday the concluding session will be held and the convention brought to a close with a banquet at the Druid Hills Golf club on Friday night.

AMERICAN PLAN SOON AT GEORGIAN TERRACE

Since the arrival from New York of Joseph Gatins, owner of the Georgian Terrace hotel property, many changes have been made, looking to the furtherance of the hotel's success. The interior decorations have been freshened, and the grill on the basement floor has been converted into a most attractive place, which will be opened after September 1, in the evening from 9 until 12 o'clock.

After September 1 the American plan will be put on exclusively in the hotel, with the best chef and staff in the country in charge, the a la carte service to be discontinued until the winter months.

After September 1, there will be introduced also, the popular function of afternoon tea from 4:30 until 6 o'clock, in the lounge every afternon, this as a courtesy to the guests of the house, but to be open for patronage by the general public.

JULIAN M'GILL GIVEN BIG CHICAGO POSITION

Julian McGill, for several years special representative here of the Westinghouse company, has been appointed to the position of special agent of the Chicago territory, one of the most important lucrative positions in the giving of the company.

Mr. McGill has accepted the appointment and will leave in a few weeks for his new post.

Mr. and Mrs. McGill since their residence here have made many friends who will regret their departure from Atlanta. She is a handsome and most attractive woman, while Mr. McGill is one of the most popular of the younger business men of the city. He is a member of all the commercial and social clubs of the city, and is at present a member of the governing committee of the Capital City club.

BUSINESS LEADERS WILL SPEAK TO BIBLE SCHOOL

"Merchants' Day" will be observed Sunday morning at 9:30 at the First Christian Bible school. At this time Colonel Frederic J. Paxon will give a short address on "Business and Christianity." Colonel Paxon is the first of a number of prominent Atlantans who will address the First Christian church on subjects pertaining to religion and business.

This innnovation is one of the features of the new efficiency system lately established at the First Christian Bible school.

Blood Purified Quickly in Summer

All the Body Responds to Action of Famous Remedy

Just as thunder shakes the ground and stirs it into action; and lightning clears the air, burns up impurities; so does S. S. S. arouse action in the blood. It is cleansed, purified and impurities are converted into substance easily and quickly eliminated.

In the winter time we get our natural purifying agency in fresh, cold, frosty air but most people spoil the effect by habits of living. And so we rely upon summer with the help of S. S. S. for it is now that the liver, lungs, kidneys and skin will be more active without the danger of severe colds.

All such troubles as pimples, boils, rash, blood risings, eczema, acne and other forms of impure blood will be rushed out of the system and new skin will quickly replace the diseased tissue.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist but don't permit anyone to fool you with something claimed "just as good."

Write to The Swift Specific Co., 111 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. for a beautiful book "What the Mirror Tells." And if you want advice on any severe form of blood trouble write the company's medical department.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS APPEAL TO PRESIDENT

Washington, August 19.—President Wilson was appealed to today by representatives of the Christian Brothers, a Catholic organization which maintains eighteen educational institutions in Mexico, to use his good offices to persuade the new government of Mexico to allow the order to resume its regular school work this fall. The activities of the Christian Brothers have been interrupted by the revolution and several of the teachers are alleged to have been killed or imprisoned.

The president will take up the question immediately.

ADVICE TO NEGROES GIVEN BY WASHINGTON

Muskogee, Okla., August 19.—Booker T. Washington, of Tuskegee, Ala., tonight told the delegates to the annual convention of the National Negro Business League, in session here, that there must be less talk of racial friction and more attention to the acquiring of intelligence and wealth if the negro race is to progress.

"Quit thinking of the parts of the cities you can't live in, but begin to beautify that part in which you can live," he advised in discussing segregation laws recently enacted in several cities.

Several thousand delegates are attending the convention.

Society

To Miss Dobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Percy entertained last night at their home in Inman Park with an informal dance in honor of their niece, Miss Louise Dobbs.

The house was beautifully decorated in vari-colored asters and roses, palms and ferns.

The young people motored out by moonlight, and had a picnic in the park, after which the dance was the feature of the evening. The party included Mrs. Louise Engman Percy, of New Orleans, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Percy; Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Dobbs, Miss Adelaide Calloway, Miss Sarah Eubanks, Miss Annie Winship Bates, Miss Ruth Reid, Miss Mary Louise Heinking, Miss Myra Clark Scott, Miss Louise Dobbs, Miss Mamie O'Keefe Kirkpatric, Mr. James Anderson, Mr. Robert L. Cooper, Mr. Paul McGovern, Mr. Milton McGovern, Mr. LePage Lewis, Mr. Harry Dobbs, Mr. Albert Lloyd and Mr. John Woodruff.

Egerly-Rogers.
Elda-Sayre.

The marriage of Mrs. Nanna Egerly and Mr. John Rogers took place August 18, at the First Christian church; also the marriage of Mrs. Juanita Lelia Elda and Mr. W. L. Sayre. Rev. L. O. Bricker officiated. Mr. Rogers and Mrs. Sayre are brother and sister.

Piedmont Driving Club.

The tea dansante at the Piedmont Driving club yesterday afternoon was the occasion of a bright assemblage of prettily-gowned women, and congenial tea parties

Among those who entertained were Mrs. Charles Haden, who entertained a party of fourteen, in honor of Miss Bauby, of Montgomery, the guest of Miss Mary Murphey; Mrs. J. O. Wynne, Mr. Otey Mitchell, Mrs. W. L. Peel, Mrs. George H. Boynton, Mrs. Shallenberger, Mrs. Claude Buchanan, Mrs. William H. Kiser, Mrs. John Gilmore, Mrs. Rogers Keese, Mrs. Mell R. Wilkinson, Mr. J. H. Mathewson, Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. R. W. Hunt, Mrs. Mott Fitzsimmons, Miss Emma Kate Amorous, Mrs. H. C. Cloud, Mrs. Frank Calloway, Mr. G. R. Solomon, Mrs. Luther Rosser, Jr., Mrs. A. E. Calhoun and Mrs. Robert R. Wood.

Brown-Derger.

The marriage of Miss Jessie Brown and Mr. Lester H. Derger took place Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. Charles O. Jones.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Addie L. Brown, and is quite popular in the younger set.

Mr. Derger is with the Standard Oil company, and has a host of friends.

The bride was lovely in a traveling gown of dark blue cloth, and wore a black velvet hat with a French plume of blue. Mr. and Mrs. Derger left for a trip east, and will be at home upon their return in Inman Park

Suffrage Meeting.

The ward meetings of the Fulton and DeKalb counties' branch of the squal suffrage party of Georgia will be held Friday at the homes of Mrs. Otto Schwab, 475 Washington street, and Mrs. Frank O. Spain, 171 East Tenth street.

Woman's Study Club.

The Woman's Study club will hold its regular meeting in Carnegie library this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The meetings are always instructive and interesting. The program will be: Mrs. Oscar Ragland, "Current Events," and a discussion—subject, "The Declaration of Independence."

Capital City Country Club.

There will be an informal dinner-dance at the Capital City Country club tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Covers will be laid for 150 guests, and dinner will be served on the porches of the club overlooking the lake.

Surprise Party.

A happy occasion of the week was the surprise birthday party given by Mrs. H. M. Wood, at her home on Georgia avenue, in honor of Miss Katie Fenton. Readings and music were the features of the evening, after which delicious refreshments were served.

The guest of honor was presented with a number of attractive gifts from each member of the party. The party included Miss Katie Fenton, Mrs. H. M. Wood, Mrs. Renard, Miss Cecil Kendrick, Mrs. J. H. Bradfield, Mrs. W. H. Preston, Mrs. Euge, Mrs. Nellie B. Hamilton, Mrs. Sebastian, Mrs. G. M. Eakes, Mrs. Parmalee, Mrs. Emma Brown, Mrs. Hawley Coleman, Mrs. W. T. Brown, Mrs. Register, Mrs. C. H Kelley.

Druid Hills Golf Club.

The dinner-dance at the Druid Hills Golf club last night was the social event of the evening.

Covers were laid for seventy guests on prettily appointed tables, which were decorated in roses and asters, and placed on the terrace.

The terrace was illuminated in Japanese lanterns and vari-colored lights, and dancing was the feature of the evening.

Faulkner-Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Bowman announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Rubie Richardson, to Mr. Curtis G. Faulkner, of Clarkesville, Tenn. The marriage took place on August 10, Rev. L. O Bricker officiating.

Epworth League.

The literary department of the Epworth league of St. John's church will have an interesting program in the lecture room of the church Friday night, August 21, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Edith Lupton, who has been a teacher in Cuba the past year, will give a talk. She will play Cuban airs and sing in Spanish.

Miss Annie May Broach will recite the "Cuban Tea." All friends and members are cordially invited. No charge for admission.

Informal Luncheon.

Mrs. Fannie Atkinson Clarkson will entertain at luncheon today, at her home on St. Charles avenue, in honor of Mrs. William Riley Boyd, the occasion to celebrate the birthday of the guest of honor. There will be ten guests, which will include the intimate friends of Mrs. Boyd.

Erd-Sheldon.

The marriage of Miss Elsie Erd and Mr. Eugene Wilson Sheldon was a pretty event of yesterday morning, taking place at 11 o'clock at the First Christian church. The church was artistically decorated with palms and ferns, and the wedding music was played by Mr. Charles Sheldon, Jr., brother of the groom. Miss Mary Ellen Gathright was maid of honor and Mr. James Miller was Mr. Sheldon's best man. The bride, who entered the church with her father, Mr. Edward Berkeley Erd, was charming in a traveling suit of blue, the coat worn with a blouse of chiffon and lace. Her hat was black velvet and her flowers were a corsage bouquet of white rosebuds and valley lilies. The maid of honor wore pink taffeta and shadow lace with leghorn hat trimmed in pink roses. She carried an armful of pink rosebuds. The bride's mother, Mrs. Edward B. Erd, wore lavender silk crepe with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip north and, returning, they will be at home with the bride's parents.

Buckeye Woman's Club.

The Buckeye Woman's club will hold their regular meeting Tuesday, August 25, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, at the home of Mrs. W. E. Floding, 250 Myrtle street.

All members are requested to attend, as business of importance will be discussed, and several new members added to the list.

For Miss Goodlett.

Mrs. R. C. Blanton will entertain informally at tea Friday afternoon at the Druid Hills Golf club, in compliment to Miss Nina Goodlett, of Tennessee, the guest of Mrs. Robert Hunt.

Miss Lipscomb to Entertain

Miss Virginia Lipscomb will entertain at a luncheon today at her home on Peachtree street. There will be sixteen guests.

Miss Rambo's Lecture.

An interesting event of this evening will be the lecture Miss Regina Rambo gives in the assembly hall of the chamber of commerce at 8 o'clock. The lecture is for the benefit of the Joseph Habersham Chapter D. A. R., and the theme will be Miss Rambo's experience on her recent trip home from Europe, in the initiative days of the war scare.

Miss Rambo is a very clever and talented woman, and her address will be a most popular occasion.

W. C. T. U.

The Atlanta Frances Willard Woman's Christian Temperance union will hold its regular session Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room of Trinity church. Those members who have not paid their annual dues are requested to be present, as the treasurer must send all money to the state treasurer before the first of September, when the books close.

MARY L. M'LENDON, President.
MRS. JANE A. ADKINS, Rec. Sec.

Thomson-Funki.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomson announce the marriage of their daughter, Berta Fennelle, to Dr. John Funki, the marriage having taken place on the evening of August 19th.

AUGUSTA SHIPS 500 BALES TO BARCELONA

Augusta, Ga., August 19.—(Special.) A local house has received the first export order for 500 bales of cotton to be sent to Barcelona, the order being received yesterday. The local market was particularly interested in the order, seeing in it an indication that the foreign mills will not all stop exporting cotton, and that the Liverpool buying houses feel reasonably safe in ordering cotton sent to the other side.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED TO YOUNG GARDENERS

Meredith Mason Holds Constitution Loving Cup for the Second Quarter.

At the regular monthly exhibit of the Atlanta Home Garden league Wednesday at Carnegie library, the following one dollar ($1.00) awards were made by Major R. J. Quinn for the best tomatoes, beets and corn.

Tomatoes, Meredith Mason; corn, E. P. Ryan; beets, Gladys Fuller.

The following one dollar ($1.00) awards were made by Miss Laura Smith, primary supervisor of public schools, for the best gardens of the second quarter, ending August 19:

Best Minature Garden of Parsley—Margaret Massengale.

Best All-round Minature Garden—Lowry Bell.

Best Kept Garden in the League—Abner Davis.

Constitution's Loving Cup.

The loving cup offered by The Constitution for gardening for the year 1914-1915 will be held until the November meeting by Meredith Mason, who made a score of 230 points for the second quarter.

The second highest number of points was made by Gladys Fuller, whose score was 185 points.

The successful contestant must be a member of the Atlanta Home Garden league and must have registered by the third Wednesday in September, which will be the first meeting of the third quarter. This is the way the points are scored:

Garden plan, 20 points; utilization of space, 20 points; care of garden, 20 points; individual work, 20 points.

Vegetable and flower exhibit at the following meetings will be valued at five or ten points each, according to quality and size. Six of each vegetable must be labeled and exhibited in September, October and November. The girl or boy making the highest score will hold the cup for the third quarter.

Contestants are urged to plan and plant their fall garden now.

A money prize will be given at the October meeting for the finest head lettuce. Money prizes will be given at the September meeting by the Burroughs' Nature club for the best planned bird box or house.

FORSYTH BOX OFFICE OPENS THIS MORNING

At 9 o'clock this morning the box office at the Forsyth will be opened for the accommodation of theatergoers who will desire to secure seats or make reservations for the opening of the theater. The season starts on Monday afternoon, with the regular scheduled matinee; there will be daily matinee and evening performances each week, with an entirely new program of Keith stars and features each week.

The theater has been given a thorough overhauling and everything is in ship-shape. The perfect arrangements of the house made but little work to be done, but what has been done is for the better comfort and convenience of the theater-goers.

The opening bill promises to be a treat of exceptional value. One of the headline acts will be the offering of the Great Leon and company, a combination of illusionists who have been wonderfully successful in larger cities. It will be the first appearance of the feature in the south and much interest has been evidenced by those who are acquainted with the novelty. Pretty Sophie Bernard, the singing comedienne, and one of the most attractive girls in vaudeville, will be a special feature, and Lou Anger, the German comedian, will be another of the star offerings.

BALDWIN WAREHOUSES TO PROTECT FARMERS

Milledgeville, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—The warehouses of this city are keenly alive to the present crisis in the cotton market and they are leaving nothing undone to advance the market and properly care for the farmer. Those here who are closest in touch with the situation believe that satisfactory arrangements will be made to care for the crop. The Samuel Evans Sons company warehouse and the Horne-Andrews Commission company, both large concerns in this city, issue a statement this week to their patrons in which they assure them that they are ready to protect the interests of their customers, enabling them to hold their coton until the market becomes right.

With the local warehouses behind the local conditions and the national government actively at work for the maintenance of price and the protection of the cotton crop, it is a safe conclusion that the grower will not suffer from inability to market his crop or from any very serious loss from low prices.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS ACCEPT AMERICUS INVITATION

Americus, Ga., August 19.—(Special.) Telegrams received this morning from D. W. Sims, Atlanta, general secretary of the Georgia State Sunday School association, conveyed information of the acceptance of the invitation extended by the Americus association and chamber of commerce to hold the next annual convention in Americus in April, 1915.

This invitation was extended by the local trades body and all churches. Eight hundred or one thousand delegates will attend the convention here, including Sunday school workers of prominence in this and other states.

LITTLE GIRL IS STRUCK BY BOLT OF LIGHTNING

Meredith Preston, 9 Years Old, Reported Last Night as Resting Well.

Little Meridith Preston, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Preston, of 277 Ashby street, was struck Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock by the only bolt of lightning that rent the skies during the day. The little girl was knocked unconscious, but strange to say, she received no burns from the bolt.

She was playing in a grove of trees with a number of her playmates, at the corner of Ashby and Oglethorpe streets. No other children were hurt by the lightning stroke, nor were any of the trees hit.

She was carried to her home nearby, and physicians were summoned to her side. She remained unconscious until late during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston were notified of this mishap to their child, and came immediately home.

The little girl was reported last night as resting farily well.

Wilkes' First Bale.

Washington, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—The first bale of the 1914 cotton crop for Wilkes county was marketed here yesterday by F. W. Derricott, a prominent and progressive farmer of West Wilkes. The bale weighed 506 pounds, and was classed as American middling, and brought 12 cents per pound. The tendency on the part of Wilkes county farmers is to withhold their cotton from the market.

BACKING SOIL PRODUCTION.

The Georgia State Agricultural society will hold its annual convention in Albany next week, August 26 and 27. There is nothing exciting or portentous in this simple announcement. It is just a plain statement of the fact that one of the most substantial and far-reaching organizations which serve the state is going to get together to talk over conditions and to figure on what ought to be done for the immediate present and the ensuing year.

In the midst of politics and European war bulletins we have perhaps gotten a little too far away from the soil. There have been hurried meetings, it is true, called to deal with the subject of handling the cotton crop. But that is only one element of the many attributable to the soil which furnish the foundation of all trade and commerce, and to which life itself owes an everlasting debt.

The Georgia State Agricultural society represents the soil and every product of it, and through these stands ultimately back of every interest, whether it be agricultural, commercial or financial, represented in the state.

In a communication published in today's Constitution, President John T. Williams and his associate, Vice President John A. Cobb, call striking attention to the general importance of this particular meeting of the society. It comes just at a time when agricultural interests are more or less alarmed as the result of European complications regarding the marketing of their products. Cotton, the most important of these, has naturally attracted the greatest attention, because not only the south, but the entire country, is directly interested in it as the one product which maintains the balance of trade in favor of the United States. But cotton is not the only product to be considered. Everything grown on the farm is affected more or less, directly or indirectly, as the result of war conditions that have interfered with international commerce. Thus, where other meetings of farmers, bankers and business men have considered cotton alone, the Georgia State Agricultural society will be called upon in its coming meeting to thresh out the whole problem of agriculture in its relation to war conditions.

The situation is one that calls for the wisest counsel and the widest possible exchange of clear-headed, far-seeing views, and splendid opportunity presents itself for discussion and action upon these lines in next week's meeting of the agricultural society. In that meeting there is possible representation of every interest in the state. Those entitled to seats upon the floor and votes in the convention include the society's officers, its life members, delegates from county agricultural societies and six additional delegates from each county in the state, chosen from persons in any way interested in agriculture, horticulture, manufacturing, banking, the mercantile business or any one interested, through whatever source, in the material prosperity of the state. With so wide a range as this there is no reason why every county in Georgia from Rabun to Decatur, and from Dade to Chatham, should not be well and fully represented in the Albany meeting.

It is an opportunity which no county can well afford to overlook, for apart from whatever definite and substantial action may be taken relative to the solution of pending problems, the information to be gathered will be of indispensable value to the agricultural and business interests of each.

Every county in the state should send its full delegation to the meeting of the Georgia State Agricultural society in Albany next week.

THE COTTON CRISIS.

Continued developments of the war situation in Europe and Asia indicate quite clearly that three-fourths of the whole civilized world is likely to become involved in a gigantic conflict, the end of which no man can foresee. What is evident and emphatic at this time is that the whole south, and more especially the cotton farmers, is to be the innocent sufferer on account of a limited demand for the great staple money crop of this section. What cotton is being sold in this state, and only a very limited quantity can be sold at all, is being bought at from 8 to 9 cents, a net loss under the actual cost of production of from $15 to $20 per bale. Ninety per cent of the cotton taken to market by the farmers is hauled back home without a bidder. The cotton exchanges of the world are closed, and no means of transportation for ocean shipment is available at any of our ports.

These facts were all developed at the cotton conference recently held at the state capitol.

Opinions vary, but it is generally agreed that from one-half to one-third of the 1914 cotton crop will have to be held and carried over into the crop of 1915. Commercial business all over the south is suffering accordingly.

It didn't take the federal government ten days to start vessels, laden with millions of dollars, to immediately relieve the American tourists stranded in European countries. Millions of dollars from the United States treasury have been sent to the big banks in New York within the past fifteen days.

What measure of financial aid and in what manner is it to be rendered to southern cotton growers by the federal government? Cotton is now being daily sacrificed all over the south at prices far below the cost of production and the mills are laying in supplies and fortifying themselves against whatever attempts the farmers may later on be able to make to advance prices to living levels.

What the south needs now is ACTION—prompt, definite and without equivocation. If the big financiers of New York are willing and able to float a loan of a hundred million dollars for France, they can find a better field in the south with spot cotton as collateral, the best gilt-edge security in the world, and far better than the bonds of foreign countries now engaged in a deadly grip of war on the other side of the Atlantic.

Congress has for nearly three weeks realized the critical position of cotton growers, and with hundreds of millions of currency lying idle in the treasury nothing definite or positive has yet been done to relieve the financial situation in the south. State and county meetings of farmers, merchants and bankers are being called throughout the cotton states to discuss the situation and await the action of congress.

The general cotton conference for delegates from all the states, which Harvie Jordan has called to meet at New Orleans, was fixed for August 27-28, believing that federal aid would have been fully assured before that date, and it is still hoped that definite action will be taken this week.

This cotton conference at New Orleans will be largely attended by delegates from all the cotton states. The Southeastern Passenger association has granted rates of practically one fare for the round trip from all points in the cotton states east of the Mississippi river, and the same rates will be granted by the Western association operating in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

At this conference this country should put the world upon notice that all the cotton not needed for consumption will be placed in storage and financed, whilel that which is required by the mills will not be sacrificed or sold at a price less than 12 cents per pound, basis middling.

The federal government should act NOW and without further delay.

PROPHETIC ADVICE.

Those were very prophetic words of Colonel Robert J. Lowry, president of the Lowry National Bank of Atlanta, when, addressing the Maryland Bankers' association in 1905, he said:

> "We are a great producing country, and we want our products carried in American bottoms direct from our ports to all foreign ports; we want to advertise the Stars and Stripes at the mastheads of hundreds of merchantmen on our seas; and we want to do our own marketing without calling on poorer nations than we are to carry our freight for us."

Colonel Lowry's plea bore then upon the commercial value of our owning our own merchant ships and carried no apprehension of the present emergency caused by the war, and the difficulties arising therefrom in our exportation facilities. He reasoned that, having more coast line than any other country, the finest of harbors, and an exportation of millions a day, it was poor business method which led to no better shipping facilities than we had then—nine years ago—and than we have now.

The necessities of commerce upon which our national prosperity is so largely dependent should have every facility to promote and increase its importance. Colonel Lowry was a pioneer in this line of thought in the south, and now the whole country is coming his way.

In this condition, as in many others related to our national life, we have stubbornly unheeded the prophet's warning; failed to benefit by the experience of other and older countries, and waited for the emergency to almost overcome the situation before learning the lesson of how badly equipped we are to meet the demands of our exportations, which, if transported by our own merchant ships, would place us in commercial activity second to no other country in the world.

Carranza lectures Villa, and the wonder of it is Villa stands for it, as usual.

And the little children have followed the campaign band wagons as they would circus processions.

JUST from GEORGIA

By FRANK L. STANTON

A Song From Billville.

I.

At last the race is over—the long fight is done,
And the Billville bands are blowin' for the candidates that won;
Late ringin' stumps are vacant; the campaignthunders cease,
No hungry mules are braying, and the woodlands are at peace.

II.

No more the speakin' prodigals across the country roam;
They'll now renew acquaintance with the folks they left at home;
Each slow, returnin' candidate will seek his blest abode,
Left lonely for his presence since the old man took the road.

III.

Weary of the speakin', and wanderin'
'round about,
An' some are in the office, an' some must still stay out;
Some hopes on high are soarin', an' some took sudden fall,
But they "hit the halleluia lick," an' that makes up for all!

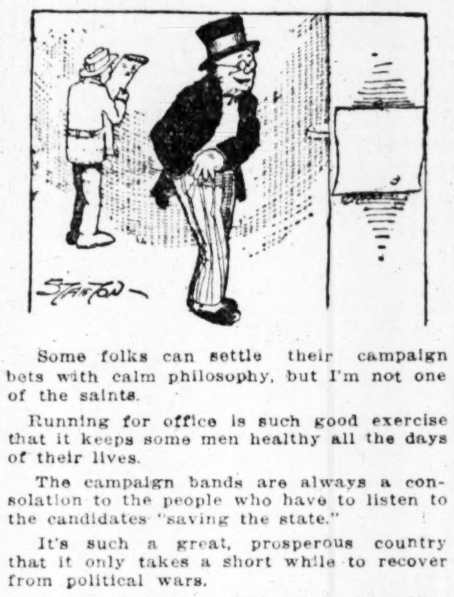
• • • • •

UNCLE JULES SAYS—



Some folks can settle their campaign bets with calm philosophy, but I'm not one of the saints.

Running for office is such good exercise that it keeps some men healthy all the days of their lives.

The campaign bands are always a consolation to the people who have to listen to the candidates "saving the state."

It's such a great, prosperous country that it only takes a short while to recover from political wars.

One good feature of the fight for office is that we don't have to read campaign speeches in bulky book form.

The Way With the Country.

I.

We want the whole earth when we're started—
Jes' ever'thing comin' in view,
But we soon change our cry,
An' we say, with a sigh:
"A few friendly acres will do."

II.

That is the way with the country,
An' when with the life-work we're through
We'll say, with a sigh
An' our very last cry:
"Just room for to rest in will do!"

"Horseshoe Pitchin'."

The Anderson Bulletin man turns aside from war and politics to write of—just "Horseshoe Pitching."

"Happy the country and secure the civilization where horseshoe pitchin' thrives. Find an American village where men beguile the long, sleepy summer afternoons, or enliven the twilights, with friendly contests at 'quoits,' and there will be found a village where the calaboose is untenanted 360 days in the year and landlord-and-tenant suits are not known."

The Real King.

Folger McKinsey is one poet who never loses sight of the country's prosperity. He strikes this optimistic string:

"Hitch up the old Good Luck and be
A hummer on the seat of time,
To reach the blest prosperity
That jingles in the morning rhyme.
Get out the banjo and the viol
And let the old tunes swing;
We're on our way to happy smile,
And prosperity is king."

Sizing Up the Collar.

From a recent essay on "Collars," by Strickland Gillilan:

"The celluloid collars are found in the roller towel and fried steak belt.

"By wiping it once a week with a damp rag the celluloid collar of commerce can be kept looking like a real collar, to a blind man a sufficient distance away.

"But even a blind man can smell camphor, in hot weather."

The Great Human Need.

Mollie Minor, who edits a literary department in The Louisiana Times, expresses the great need of humanity:

"We have the wireless telegraph,
The fireless cooker, too,
And smokeless powder is a thing
That's not entirely new.
We have the spineless female form,
The anecdoteless bore,
And now won't someone please invent
A first-class wolfless door?"

New Gardens.

(The Spectator (London) reprints the following as part of an old English ballad.)

Let's go to Kew, 'tis lilac time, 'tis lilac time.

Let's go to Kew, 'tis lilac time: It isn't far from London!

And we shall wander hand in hand with Love in summer wonderland,
So let's to Kew, 'tis lilac time—it isn't far from London!

The cherry trees are seas of bloom and sweet perfume.
And oh! so near to London!
And there they say when dawn is nigh and all the world's a blaze of sky,
The cuckoo, tho' he's very shy, will sing a song for London.

The nightingale is rather rare, and yet they say you'll hear him there,
At Kew, at Kew—in lilac time, and oh! so near to London.
The linnet and the throstle, too, and, after dark, the cry halloo!
And golden-eyed "tu-whit-tu-whoo" of owls that ogle London.

For Noah hardly knew a bird of any kind that isn't heard
At Kew, at Kew—in lilac time (and oh! so near to London).
And when the rose begins to pout and all the chestnut spires are out,
You'll hear the rest without a doubt, all chorus-ing for London!

Nature's Optimism.

(From The Boston Globe.)

American wheat just now is king and a greater monarch than the czar of Russia or the emperor of Austria. The pessimists are making gloomy faces over the flow of American gold to Europe, but, rain or shine, war or peace, the golden tide of American grain will bring back from Europe a reflux tide of golden prosperity. All the pessimism in the world cannot down such accomplished optimism as nature is showing this year.

Some Little Talks by George Matthew Adams

MEN OF PARTS.

The doorkeepers to the Idea houses, the Enterprise shops and the Executive chambers of this world are held and lorded over by Men of Parts—men who can use a little tact here and a little tact there, men who know how to be strong when strength counts and who know how to be gentle when there is a call for gentleness.

The saying is that it takes all kinds of people to make up a world, but it takes all kinds of a man to make up a man.

This morning perhaps you read of some man you knew who failed. He did not have enough parts. The one part demanded was not there. Daily we see crises and at each time the silent voice that sounds loud—but into nobody's ear excepting your own—is the voice that calls for one of those parts of yours to "make good."

If it were not for the Men of Parts interspersed all through human society, all organization would tumble to pieces.

Men of Parts are those who do not neglect a single chance to develop some side of their nature. Daily they strive for something more, something untried, something that may come to them unexpectedly. If you want to be happy, see how many of your parts you can educate to their highest efficiency.

TALK EXCHANGE

Just think what this world would be if people could not Talk. Just think how miserable you would be if you could not find somebody to Talk with at those times that come to everybody, when if you don't talk and get your feelings into expression, it seems as though you would almost be self-smothered.

But the essence of all foolishness is to Talk, just to hear yourself Talk or to hear somebody else Talk.

To Talk well is as great an art as anything to which you are heir. To express yourself clearly, exactly, concisely—meaningly—can you imagine a man with more power? And isn't Talk the exact center of a man's thinking apparatus in action?

So, first learn to Talk intelligently, interestingly, and then hunt out the other people who have mastered the same thing.

Exchange your ideas. Measure up your viewpoints with the viewpoints of other people. Line up your experience with the experiences of others. Talk, but match your talk with deeds, then other people will always be intensely interested in everything you say.

YOUTH.

The flowers that came up this spring in the same spot from what looked like the same stems of yesteryear and that smelled as sweet and looked as beautiful, and which will again return next spring clothed in the same glory as this year, are the endless expressions of what Youth is in the world.

Nature doesn't grow old. It only changes form. Its smile is just as young today as thousands of years ago.

Then why should you not—you who are a million times more wonderful than anything Nature ever formed—be an eternal expression of what Youth may always be?

The greatest thing about Youth is that it is always alert—intelligent. Youth knows just how to bear Sorrow and Disappointment and Difficulty—and Courageously so, too. It takes all these things and masses them together as an expression of what Youth has to contend with naturally. And so it goes about its work naturally and is happy.

True Youth is imperishable. If you catch the spirit of Youth, somehow or other you hold the greatest secret to the greatest mysteries that shame the unintelligent and break down and beat into age the unthinking.

IT MATTERS.

Bernard Shaw once gave expression to one of the finest things he or anyone else ever said. Here it is: "Keep yourself clean. Remember you are the window lights through which you must view the world."

You may try to convince yourself that it will not matter to the outer world whether or not the windows of your life are kept clean. But there is one thing as certain as anything can be certain, and that is that it matters to you, whether it does to anyone else or not, for if you cannot get the right perspective on life and upon all the various beauties that life gives out, then you are cheating yourself.

Everything matters that has to do with your individual happiness.

But you may say that so long as other people do not understand you nor your motives you can do a great many things of which the outer world might not approve, that your defense in case of attack will be able to stand secure. But it will not, if you are not able to see clearly and happily and contentedly through every action that you perform.

And then again the world is exactly what you SEE it to be, nothing more, nothing less.

WHY?

There always has been and there always will be a certain percentage of people whose prosaic Brains cannot fathom the fine things that make Progress wonderful.

When Admiral Peary, after having spent half a lifetime in just seeking the North Pole, finally returned to his native land after accomplishing it, people said, "Now that Peary has found the Pole, what does it all amount to?"

Last week a man named Patterson jumped into his automobile, took the wheel and left Chicago for New York. He made the trip in forty-one hours, breaking all amateur records. He got out of his automobile tired and worn out, having had no sleep during all this time. He had actually whipped his body to the task.

And again people said, "What did he gain by it?"

I will tell you what Peary gained by it, and what Patterson gained by it. It is this—they did something that nobody else had ever done before, just because they wanted to do it, because of the love of doing it. It is such men as Peary and Patterson and scores of others of like caliber that furnish the axle grease that makes the world move noiselessly but surely onward.

There is bigness, character and wonderful reward in doing things just for the love of attaining them.

Roof Space for Health.

(From The Indianapolis News.)

That New York will be healthier when roof gardens are constructed on most of the buildings of the city was asserted by Marcus M. Marks, borough president, in a recent address at the tuberculosis preventorium for children at Farmingdale, N. J. The whole remedy for incipient tuberculosis, he pointed out, was to be found in simple food, fresh air and sunshine.

"The streets of our city," he said, "range from sixty to one hundred feet in width, and, as the blocks run two hundred to four hundred feet in length, the roof space on each block is fully four times as great as the street space. It is, apparently, waste space. The congestion of our streets could be largely relieved by a sensible use of roof space; roof gardens could give the opportunity for fresh air and sunshine to those who now must content themselves with walking on the dusty, hot pavements, and being ordered by the police to 'move on.' This would save many children from street accidents and from the unpleasant proximity of the garbage barrel."

It would not require legislation to make New York a city of roof gardens, he said, for builders, when a few pioneers have started the custom of running stairways to the roofs, and making them safe and attractive, will find the gardens necessary to draw tenants.

Mr. Marks also suggested that the use of sleeping porches in private residences should be stimulated by all persons interested in preventing tuberculosis.

Would Be Worth the Money.

(From The Columbia State.)

While we are not naturally extravagant, we believe we would give as much as 25 cents to see our friend, the Missouri youth who weights 400 pounds, and Professor Taft together in a folding bed.

The Real Cause of Europe's War Accurately and Concisely Stated

(From The St. Louis Republic.)

We in America are far enough from the theater of war in Europe to take a birds-eye view of causes. Among them we find the most wonderfully situated city in all the world, a race of nomad warriors from the Altai mountains in Central Asia, a streak of sea water between yellow sand banks, and the ingrained tendency of Occidental nations to lie to each other.

We begin with the city—Constantinople. Get a map of the Mediterranean countries and look at its situation. There, between the island-studded Aegean and the Black sea, lies a little sea, Marmora. It has two gateways, each a long and narrow strait. At this sea's northeastern end, close by the gate through which pours the overflow of the Black sea, there is a long and narrow arm of deep water, the famous Golden Horn, large enough to hold the ships of all the world. Across from the mouth of this bay is Asia. Behind it rise rocky hills, easily capable of strong defense. This is the site of Constantinople.

The power that holds it commands at once the Black sea, the Aegean and the Eastern Mediterranean. A fleet in the Sea of Marmora, with Dardanelles and Bosphorus closed, is secure, not only from attack, but from observation. When it makes ready to strike it may choose between southern Russia, the Black sea coasts of the Balkan states, the northern shores of fertile Asia Minor, Greece, the Smyrna coast, and the African lands of the eastern Mediterranean. It is in the very nature of things that the power controlling it should dominate all the trade routes between Orient and Occident. This is the splendid prize which the settlement of the eastern question must award.

It is now held by the Turks, Central Asian nomads with an Arabian creed, whose strength conquered Constantinople in 1453, and whose weakness has held it for more than 100 years more effectually than their strength could ever have done.

When England acquired India, the freedom of the sea routes to that rich and populous country became a vital necessity to her. The digging of the Suez canal made free passage through the Mediterranean only less important to England than the freedom of the English channel itself. Constantinople being by nature the strongest naval base in the world, England has felt an intense interest in keeping it out of the hands of a strong power.

The natural, civilized solution of the question of Constantinople would have been to neutralize the port and throw the narrow straits where Europe and Asia almost touch open to the commerce of all the world. Here our moral factor emerges. No one may read the history of the eastern question without having the fact borne in upon him that in European diplomacy there has been no truth and no honor. The commissioning of permanent diplomats began with Louis XI. of France. He sent resident representatives to the Dukes of Brittany and Guionne, and instructed them: "If they lie to you, lie you the more to them." The profession of diplomacy, since that day, has lived up to the spirit of its founder.

The hinterland of Constantinople is a wild and mountainous region where meet Slavs, Turks, Greeks and other races, like the Albanians and the Roumanians, of whose origin no exact account may be given. These narrow valleys and upland slopes have been for centuries the scene of robbery, arson, pillage, outrage and murder. In this region have met the power of the Turk, the power of the Russian and the power of Austria. Neither Austria nor Russia has been permitted to pacify the Balkans or to possess them because this task would carry with it control of the splendid prize to the southeast.

Here has operated the great moral factor referred to. None of the great powers has trusted any other. Anyone sitting down and looking dispassionately over the treaty of Berlin, which "settled" the relations of the Balkan states, and then glancing at the history written since that time will see that all the powers that signed it have ignored it when it suited their pleasure, and that their dealings with the Turk, so far as his obligations under it are concerned, show the moral cowardice of those who, defaulters on their own pledges, have not dared to insist that others fulfill theirs.

The reason why the Balkans have remained the great open sore of Europe is not that there were Slavs on one side, Teutons on another and Turks on a third. There has been too much facile explaining of trouble there in terms of "irrepressible racial antagonism." The main trouble has been lack of plain good faith with each other on the part of nations, and this has been as marked between the Teutonic peoples as it has between Teuton and Slav. If England, Russia, France, Austria and Germany had been able to trust each other's covenanted promises and to believe each other's professions the eastern question would long ago have been settled. Thousands of innocent men and women have been murdered in the Balkans in a single year and the Unspeakable Turk has been retained long years in Europe, not because one nation was Teuton and another Slav, but simply because all were false in faith and word. Each has commented on and emphasized the shortcomings of the others, so that each has felt justified in its own sins and its own suspicions.

This "racial" talk is much overdone. Russia, we are told, is helping Servia because of "Pan-Slavic enthusiasm," and Austria is fighting Servia because of Teutonic jealousy of Slavs. Nonsense! If Russia is so strongly pro-Slav, why was she one of the wolves that tore the bleeding body of Slavic Poland in three, and why have the unhappy Poles felt so strongly the weight of her hand? Brigandage and outrage have been stopped in many other quarters of the world by the hand of civilization curbing barbarism. In the Balkans alone they have gone on unchecked, because of European greed of the great jewel, Constantinople. The Turk, weak and wicked, has suited the second purpose of each one of the great powers, the first being to control Constantinople, the second, to keep all the others from controlling it.

Russia, more than a half-century ago, began the policy of fostering the spirit of nationality among the southern Slavs. Not that she wanted freedom for them; she really wanted to oppress them. But that was impossible, and it was better to have Constantinople fall into hands of men under obligation to Russia than to have it taken over by another great power. How little the Slavic factor counts is proved by Russia's use of Roumania, which is not Slavic at all.

Now just as Austria, Russia and England have each coveted Constantinople for decades, and France and Germany have been intent to prevent its falling into the hands of any one of them, so three of the little Balkan states have each its dream of empire. There are the Greater Greece, the Greater Servia and the Greater Bulgaria ideas, each contemplating an empire renewing the glories of the past, real or legendary, and each idea possible of realization only on condition of the conquest of adjacent districts and the subjugation of neighboring peoples with different plans for their own future.

When Austria reached out her hand to crush Servia, all the weight of the Austrian ambition for the conquest of the Balkan peninsula and its capital was behind the move. Russia intervened because, with Austria on the Aegean and ultimately in Constantinople, Russia's access to the Mediterranean would be cut off. There the exceptional situation of the city played its part again. England was at once intensely interested, not alone because of the possibility of German violation of Belgian neutrality, but because Austrian control of the Aegean would mean command of the short sea route to India through the Suez canal. And when the nations, after abortive attempts to negotiate, fell on each other's flanks, there operated the moral factor; there the utter lack of good faith, in view of a half-century of lies and misrepresentations and intrigues, stepped in to keep any nation from believing in the promises of the other, and so to make mediation impossible. Then Germany violated the neutrality of Luxemburg and Belgium, and Europe was in flames.

Every Georgia County Should Be Represented At Albany Next Week

To the People of Georgia: During the dark days of reconstruction, when the heaviest cloud of gloom and despondency hung over our state, those great leaders, Howell Cobb, Robert Toombs and Benjamin H. Hill, made their brave and grand addresses, known as the "Bush Arbor Speeches," calling on our people to arouse themselves and shake off the throttling hand of our oppressors. Then our people woke up, shaking themselves like a mad lion, and their roar of indignation was heard through the bounds of the entire country saying in no doubtful terms, "Thus far and no farther," to our oppressors and their allies, the traitors in our own midst.

Then those noble, true, patriots and farmers, Benjamin C. Yancey, Mark A. Cooper, Richard Peters, David W. Lewis, David C. Barrow, Dr. James S. Hamilton and others, realizing that upon the farming interests of our state rested responsibility for our redemption and prosperity, reorganized the Georgia State Agricultural society, sent out broadcast over the state their advertisements and premium lists, and in the fall of 1868 held a fair in Macon and the demonstration there made of the resources and possibilities of our grand old state was astonishing, not only to our own people, but to the entire country.

Our people were encouraged and took on new life, and from that date true prosperity began. The society has continued from that date holding annual fairs, and no organization has done as much to encourage our people and bring prosperity to the whole state as this society has done.

We are now passing through trying times and need co-operation and an exchange of views as to what is the best course for our people to now pursue. The Georgia State Agricultural society is a chartered institution representing every interest in the state and when in convention assembled authorized to speak for the entire state. The society will hold its annual convention in Albany, Ga., on August 26-27. Those entitled to membership are its officers, life members, delegates from county agricultural societies and six additional members from each county, chosen from persons in any way interested in agriculture, horticulture, manufacturing, banking, mercantile or any one interested in the material prosperity of the state.

We call on and urge the people of Georgia to see that every county in the state is represented at this convention. Let us meet together, give cheer and encouragement to our people, and bring out by conference and suggestion such measures as will show our people that times are not as dark and gloomy as some may think, and there is a rift in the sky that portends a brighter and more prosperous condition.

Let us be in Albany, Ga., on the 26th and 27th of August and do our part in trying to produce a hopeful and brighter condition in the near future.

Home Market for Loans Better Than That Abroad

Editor Constitution: We have been seeing in the papers lately a great deal about financing the cotton, and other crops, and about the extraordinary efforts of the government to furnish funds for the purpose. Now comes a proposition by some New York bankers to loan $100,000,000 to France and an amount, not disclosed, to Austria.

The question naturally arises that, if it is possible for this country to loan these amounts to the countries at war in Europe, why could not this same amount be used to finance crops and reduce the amount of emergency requirements that the government is called on to supply?

Another question also arises. It is admitted on all hands that the war is doing incalculable damage to the United States, making it necessary to levy emergency taxes to meet the expenses of government and interfering in every way with the natural course of business. It is also admitted that the longer the war continues the greater the damage done to the United States. Where is the logic then in making it possible to prolong the war by furnishing funds to meet its expenses? The United States has made announcement of neutrality, restricting commerce in certain ways. What becomes of our neutrality announcement if we forbid the supplying of war material, fuel, etc., to the combatants, and yet supply them with what is absolutely necessary to secure such supplies, i. e., funds.

History has never seen a war as extensive, or as expensive, or so destructive of values, as this present one, and the longer it lasts the greater the destruction; why, then, assist in prolonging it by furnishing funds? It seems to me that this country is in such a strong financial position in the world today that, instead of furnishing funds to prolong the war, it should do all it possibly can to deplete the war chests of Europe, by selling only for gold, and in this way force the end of the war sooner. It also seems to me that international bankers will make much greater ultimate profits by sacrificing the immediate profit to be made by lending at high rates and forcing the purchase of American foodstuffs for gold, which, in turn, would be used at great profit at home.

This suggestion to make these loans immediately suggests that the opportunity to make them has been foreseen for a long time, and gradually the necessary gold has been accumulated by the banks, taking it out of the usual course of trade. To this extent the money tightness has been artificial instead of natural. Also the distribution of a lot of foreign bonds cannot do much to relieve the situation.

I may be very dense, and all these things may be subject to adequate explanation, but if they are I would like some one to enlighten me. At present it seems to me that the suggestion to lend large sums of money to the warring countries is not the most patriotic possibility. Funds will be needed to repair the damage when the war is over, and these funds will go into lines that will create wealth instead of destroy it. Would it not be better to wait for that time and then supply the funds when they will be of the greatest value to humanity?

MERCHANT MARINE FOR UNITED STATES

Administration Plans to Spend $25,000,000 Buying Ships to Transport American Products.

Washington, August 19.—The administration today mapped out comprehensive plans for building up the American merchant marine with government money for the immediate purpose of transporting products of the United States to warring European nations and to South and Central America.

President Wilson, in consultation with democratic congressional leaders, approved a project contemplating the expenditure of approximately $25,000,000 to purchase ocean-going vessels to be operated under the direction of a government shipping board.

Government insurance of American ships and cargoes against war risks would be provided for in a bill submitted to congress today after it had been approved by the president. The bill was introduced in the senate by Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, and in the house by Representative Alexander. It would create a temporary bureau of war risk insurance in the treasury department and would appropriate $5,000,000 for payment of losses and $100,000 to operate the bureau.

To Create a Shipping Board.

Plans agreed on for the purchase by the government of ships include the creating of a shipping board to comprise the president, the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of commerce and the postmaster general. It is proposed to use the ships principally in foreign trade and the administration hopes that great impetus will be given to trade between South and Central America.

The present plan is to obtain money to carry out the project by the sale of Panama canal bonds. It was decided it might take some time for sufficient ships to take advantage of the recently signed amendment to the Panama canal act, allowing foreign-built ships to register under the American flag, and the necessity for moving the crops of the United States is so pressing that extraordinary steps were decided on.

It is planned to organize a company similar to the Panama Railway company, controlled by the government, for the actual operation of the ships after they have been purchased.

The president conferred with Secretary McAdoo, Senators Clarke and Simmons and Representatives Underwood and Alexander on the entire shipping question. The war risk insurance bill was approved at the meeting. The president was told that it would be almost impossible to move exports unless the government stepped in and he finally consented to the scheme.

Ships on the Market.

No offers to sell ships to the government have been received, but it was the general understanding that owners of many vessels now tied up in American ports will be glad to dispose of them.

Immediately after the conference today work was begun on the proposed legislation and senate and house leaders plan to bring about the completion of the movement as quickly as possible. There already is pending before the house naval affairs committee a bill to appropriate $25,000,000 for the purchase or construction of a fleet of twenty vessels. Another bill of this character is pending in the senate naval affairs committee.

Before the house naval affairs committee today Rear Admiral R. M. West, chief of the bureau of construction of the navy department, discussed the type and size of vessels which would be useful as trading ships, and at the same time would be available as auxiliaries to the navy. He said the ships should be from 10,000 to 12,000 tons displacement. He added that the navy needed twenty or thirty such ships for use in emergencies.

Fred Woods, president of the Maryland Steel company, said that twelve or fifteen auxiliaries of the type described could be constructed in eight or nine months.

Grain Tied Up at Ports.

Secretary McAdoo tonight made public figures on grain in port along the gulf coast and the Atlantic seaboard, showing that nearly 50,000,000 bushels either are in terminal elevators or in transit and that few ships are loading. In New Orleans he said there are 15,700,000 bushels, in Galveston 25,623,000 bushels, in Baltimore 3,600,000, in New York 939,000 and in Boston 641,000.

Railroads have refused to accept further grain shipments to New Orleans and Galveston, and while at New Orleans six ships are loading grain, virtually none of the grain at Galveston is being touched. Even if all these millions of bushels of grain are disposed of the secretary thinks the situation will become acute again when the cotton crop is offered for shipment.

P. A. S. Franklin, director of the International Mercantile Marine, came to Washington today to cosult with the president and other government officials.

Mr. Franklin proposed that the government provide means for the purchase of available foreign-built ships, declaring the step imperatively necessary, owing to the difficulty of raising capital necessary from private sources.

M'REYNOLDS IS NAMED FOR SUPREME COURT

And Thomas Watt Gregory Is Nominated for Attorney General of U. S.

Washington, August 19.—The president today signed the following nominations:

Attorney General James C. McReynolds, of Nashville, Tenn., to be a member of the United States supreme court.

Thomas Watt Gregory, of Texas, to be attorney general of the United States.

The nominations were presented to the senate immediately after it convened and were formally referred to committees. There are some indications of opposition to Mr. McReynolds' confirmation by three or four senators. Administration leaders, however, have no doubt of his confirmation. They say a very recent poll of the senate assures it.

The appointment of Mr. McReynolds marks the first break in President Wilson's official household. It is said to have been the president's ambition to go through with his administration without a change in his cabinet.

Mr. McReynolds is 52 years of age and is a native of Kentucky. From 1903 to 1907 he was assistant attorney general. Afterward he was engaged in private practice in New York. He was long specially retained by the government in connection with the enforcement of the anti-trust laws, particularly in proceedings against the tobacco trust and the combination of the anthracite coal railroads. His home is in Nashville.

Mr. Gregory at present is a special assistant attorney general. He has had charge of the government's investigation of the New Haven railroad. He was born in Crawfordsville, Miss., November 6, 1861, and was admitted to the Texas bar in 1885. His home is in Austin. As special counsel for the state of Texas he prosecuted many anti-trust cases.

WILSON IS ATTACKED BY THE NEW YORK G. O. P.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 19.—The platform presented to the republican state convention today was devoted largely to arraignment of the national and state democratic administrations. The platform says:

"We assert that the legislative policy of the democratic national administration has been sectional as well as hostile to the great industrial communities of the country, and particularly to the state of New York. Its tariff legislation has been framed in utter disregard of reasonable and fair protection to American labor and American industries, and in reckless refusal to avail of the benefit of expert information gathered by the tariff board which was created by the republican congress and abolished by the democratic congress."

The new banking and currency act is assailed as sectional in its intent "with an ill concealed purpose to injure the state of New York and drive capital to other states."

The income tax law likewise is denounced as a sectional measure tending to extract millions of dollars from a few prosperous states in excess of their just share.

"The democratic administration," reads the platform, "is now engaged in an effort to force through congress legislation giving to the federal government a vast, undefined and inquisitorial power over all the business activities of the country, destruction of the fundamental principles of freedom of labor and opportuntiy and that protection of property, to secure which governments are established. If this attitude of hostility to business and interference with private affairs is to continue, no enterprise will be able to live in this country unless it curries favor of politicians."

DISGUISED AS STUDENTS, CHINESE ARE SMUGGLED

Seattle, Wash., August 19.—Evidence of the wholesale smuggling of adult Chinese into the United States, disguised as students, was laid before the federal industrial relations commission, in hearing which closed here last night. Testimony showed that it was worth from $500 to $750 to bring a Chinaman into this country.

Witnesses admitted that they had received large fees for bringing Chinese in as students and the evidence showed that these "students" had disappeared soon after being placed in schools. Twenty Chinese were brought into the United States and placed in Cushing academy, Ashburnham, Wash., by Mrs. Sarah Hing, white wife of a Chinaman, of Ellensburg, Wash., who styled herself an organizer for the Young Men's Christian association and the Young Women's Christian association, although admitting she never was appointed to such a position.

According to other witnesses, Chinese who had been illegally admitted through colleges now are held by their employers who work them at low wages under threats of exposure.

After the hearing a copy of the testimony was turned over to local federal authorities with a view to prosecutions.

FIFTH WARD WANTS BETTER CAR SERVICE

The largest crowd that has ever gathered in the fifth ward is expected to be present tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the English Avenue schoolhouse of the Fifth Ward Improvement club. At this meeting the club hopes to devise some plan by which better car services may be secured on the English avenue line of the Georgia Railway and Power company.

There is much enthusiasm manifest in this issue, and the people are up in arms against paying full fare and having to stand most all the time all the way.

The club will also arrange for an understanding of the county commissioners as to the cherting of Chestnut street from Kennedy to Jefferson streets. There will be several of the city candidates present.

DR. FISCHER IS SAFE AT AMERICAN LEGATION

A cablegram from the American legation at s'Gravenhagen, Netherlands, announces that Dr. L. C. Fisher, of Atlanta, is well and safe with the American legation at that point. The message, which was received by H. R. Fischer, is the first news that has been received from Dr. Fischer and his family since the outbreak of the European war.

Ralph Emerson Dead.

Rockford, Ill., August 19.—Ralph Emerson, a cousin of Ralph Waldo Emerson, and himself rather widely known as a philanthropist and manufacturer, died at his home here tonight, aged 83 years. The Emerson institute, a training school for negroes, at Mobile, Ala., was founded by him, his benefactions to this school and other similar projects totaling several hundred thousand dollars.

West Point's First Bale.

West Point, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—The first bale of the 1914-15 cotton crop was brought in by Frank C. Barrett, a prosperous farmer of Harris, this morning and was auctioned off for 15 cents per pound to I. M. Scott & Co., supply merchants. The first bale of cotton was a few days earlier than last year. Cotton will be coming freely in ten days.

Autoists Killed by Car.

Vermillion, Ohio, August 19.—Two members of an automobile party from Newcastle, Pa., were killed and one probably fatally injured near here today when their machine was struck by a Lake Shore traction car. The dead are Michael [illegible], 27, and George Warner, 40. Joseph Schweingruver, 61, is not expected to recover.

AMERICAN CONSUL JAILED IN MEXICO

Louis Hostetter Held by One of Villa's Partisans. Villa Preparing to Turn on Carranza.

El Paso, Texas, August 19.—Louis Hostetter, American consul at Hermosillo, Sonora, has been placed in jail by the Mexican authorities, according to assertions today by Carranza officials along the border. It was not stated whether he had been released.

The responsibility for the consul's arrest is the subject of a dispute between Carranza and Villa factions. General Villa, commander-in-chief of Chihuahua, telegraphed Colonel P. Elias Calles, a Carranza official, blaming him for Hostetter's arrest.

Rodolfo De La Huerta, a Carranza official, telegraphed agents here that Hostetter had been imprisoned by order of Jose Maria Maytorena, governor of Sonora, who is in open revolt against the Carranza central government represented by Calles.

Villa remained today at Chihuahua City. It was reported that throughout his zone recruiting of troops and the arming with rifles smuggled over the border here continued with unabated vigor. Villa's local agents arranged for the delivery of large hospital supplies suitable for a long campaign.

George C. Carothers, who has been acting as a state department representative with Villa, and Paul Fuller, recently sent to Mexico by Secretary Bryan, returned today after an interview with the northern chief. They declined to comment upon what answer had been given to the appeal of the Washington government that Villa not revolt against the Carranza government. Mr. Fuller left late today for the east, while Mr. Carothers remained here.

Villa May Invade Sonora.

Nogales, Ariz., August 19.—Tangible proof of the Carranza-Villa split and the danger of an armed invasion of Sonora state by Villa forces was received here today.

General Villa, northern divisional commander, telegraphed Carranza military officials in Sonora that if they combatted Jose Maria Maytorena, the elected governor of the state, he would penetrate the state with his forces, which recently have been recruited to war strength.

Villa's message sent to Colonel P. Elias Calles, military commander in north Sonora, said in part:

"I, as chief of forces under arms closest to your state, should be obliged to enter your state and arrange matters as they ought to be and establish authorities which shall be respected so that peace shall be restored for the good of the nation."

Villa said that he took this stand because Maytorena was the "constitutional governor of the state of Sonora and therefore the representative of the people."

Sonora state is in the military zone commanded by General Alvaro Obregon, who headed the constitutionalist forces which recently peaceably entered Mexico City.

Federal Debts Repudiated.

Mexico City, August 19.—A decree is to be issued tomorrow by the governor of the federal district repudiating government notes of the issue of July 25 last. This issue was made during the regime of Provisional President Francisco Carbajal on the authorization of the $60,000,000 six per cent ten-year gold bonds made by the Huerta administration. About $10,000,000 of this paper is now in circulation. The repudiation is based upon the decree issued by Venustiano Carranza on April 26, refusing to recognize the acts of the Huerta government.

The new constitutionalist cabinet was announced last night as follows:

Minister of foreign affairs, Ysidro Fabela; minister of interior, Elisee Arredondo; minister of public instruction, Dr. Miguel Cilva; minister of communication, Ignacio Bonillas; minister of finance, Felicitos Villaroal; minister of war, Eduardo Hay.

The appointment of minister of justice has been deferred, awaiting the reorganization of the courts.

Mustering out of the federal troops is proceeding rapidly. Four thousand were released today, each enlisted man receiving $10 and his fare home, while the officers received $20 and their fare.

While absolute order prevails everywhere, the rigors of military government have been in no way slackened. Two thieves disguised in the uniforms of constitutionalists were summarily executed at a police station today and their bodies exposed to the view of the curious crowds. As in former cases, warning placards were pinned on the breasts of the dead men.

Baby Lost in Shipwreck.

Vancouver, B. C., August 19.—One life was lost last night in the wreck of the Prince Albert. The victim was the boby son of J. Deraedt, a Graham island settler. The first boat to put off capsized close to the shore. Adults waded to safety but the baby slipped out of its father's arms and drowned.

DANDRUFF ON HEAD DRY AND SCALY

Scaled Off and Showed Plainly. Crusted and Itched Terribly. Hair Fell Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

Shiner, Texas.—"I had dandruff so badly my head would itch and when I scratched it would hurt. My head was full of scaly dry dandruff and it became so thick that it scaled off and showed plainly. My head was almost white with it. It crusted and itched terribly. It got so bad I could hardly rest at night. My hair began to fall out and it was lifeless.

"I tried a bottle of ——— but it did me little good. I saw an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a sample. I applied the Cuticura Ointment to my scalp and frequently shampooed my head with the Cuticura Soap. After using one cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment my head was cured. Now I am free from dandruff and my hair is growing." (Signed) Miss Ida Ringhoffer, Mar. 28, 1914.

ATLANTA SUFFRAGISTS TO BUY COTTON GOODS

Resolutions Are Adopted at Meeting Held on Wednesday Afternoon.

At a meeting of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association on Wednesday afternoon at the Ansley hotel, the president, Mrs. Amelia Woodall, after opening the meeting, read a protest against the terrible war in which the great countries of Europe have become embroiled.

This protest was heartily indorsed by the association. The editorial, "Buy Cotton Goods," appearing in Tuesday's Constitution was read, and Miss Katherine Koch offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The European war, with its demoralization of trade and impairment of the market for cotton will financially embarrass the southern farmer and will imperil the prosperity of the south; and,

Whereas, a patronage of home-made cotton goods, a demand for materials made of cotton instead of those made of silk or flax, would have a salutary effect upon the agricultural, industrial and commercial activities of this section; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association, as a progressive and patriotic organization, go on record as indorsing the movement to use goods made from cotton, and to urge and encourage the manufacture and sale of goods made from this staple commodity of the south.

Plans were perfected for an old-fashioned "spelling bee," to be held in the auditorium of the Ansley hotel on the evening of September 10.

After the business meeting a very interesting program was given. Mrs. Mamie Folsom Wynne, of Dallas, Texas, gave a delightful account of her recent travels in Europe and of her impressions of European women. An "anti-suffrage recitation," by Mrs. M. L. McLendon was hugely enjoyed.

POLICE ARE PROBING MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

In a mysterious shooting which occurred last night near a lunch stand on Madison avenue, between Forsyth and Hunter, Marion Strickland, a 16-year-old boy living at 146 Walker street, received a flesh wound in his left leg.

Strickland was seen making a headlong flight from the neighborhood, not stopping till he reached engine house No. 5, where he was arrested by Officer Turner. Strickland states that having been employed all day by the plumbing firm of Stewart & Hunt, he had been home for supper, and at the time of the fracas he was on his way down town. In accounting for his flight he said that he was frightened by the shooting and the running about of congregated negroes. The detectives have the case under investigation.

BOX OFFICE TO OPEN FOR "CABIRIA" TODAY

The seat sale for "Cabiria," the greatest of all the movies, will begin at the box office of the Atlanta theater this morning and a tremendous sale is expected. The movie will be in Atlanta for two weeks, beginning next Monday.

"Cabiria" has had a long run in New York, where it has been greeted with the greatest enthusiasm. Newspaper praise has been lavish and the prospects are that Atlanta will be equally generous in her attendance.

Baldwin's First Bale.

Milledgeville, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—The first bale of 1914 cotton was brought to the market this week by Mike Jackson, a negro, and sold at the Farmers' Warehouse. The bale weighed 495 pounds and brought 12 cents a pound.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Young Girl Is Pinned Beneath Automobile—Two Versions of the Accident Are Given.

Pinned beneath the wreckage of an overturned touring car, Miss Marie Marx, a pretty young member of an auto party last night, had a narrow escape from death.

Her sister, Miss Jennie Marx, who had been thrown several feet from the tonneau, was also painfully injured. Their companions, Frank Collins and J. P. Rudisold, of Canton, Ga., were likewise thrown from the machine. Rudisold was the worst injured. He sustained a badly wrenched kneecap that caused considerable pain.

The accident occurred on Mitchell street, between Whitehall and South Pryor. Versions of eye-witnesses and the car's occupants differ. Rudisold says he was struck upon turning into East Mitchell from Whitehall by an incoming machine and that this caused him to lose control of his machine.

Eye-witnesses say that the car was coming briskly down East Mitchell from Whitehall, when it suddenly became unmanageable, skidded in various directions and wound up by turning a complete somersault. They say that no other machine figured in the mishap.

Marie Marx was pinned beneath the heavy machine. Rudisold, who was driving, was thrown several feet in the air, landing on the sidewalk at least twenty feet from the wreckage. Collins was tossed a similar distance. Jennie, the elder girl, who said she was a sister of Miss Marx, was hurled into the air and into the middle of the street. The car is a complete wreck.

A big crowd gathered, including three newspaper men. Masculine arms undertook to lift the heavy wreckage from the wounded girl. Suddenly she cried:

"Keep those reporters away until I get out."

Then she crawled out from under the mass of wreckage, scrambled to her feet and, grabbing a white slipper that had been torn from her foot, she darted into the crowd. Her sister also fled into Whitehall street.

The address of the girls could not be obtained. The car was the property of Rudisold, who intended returning to Canton early this morning.

U. S. Destroyer Launched.

Philadelphia, August 19.—The United States torpedo boat destroyer Nicholson was launched from the Cramp ship yard in this city today. Captain Samuel Nicholson, after whom the boat is named, served in the revolutionary war and was the first commander of the frigate Constitution. The destroyer is the twelfth vessel of its type to be constructed for the government by the Cramps. It is built of steel and is 315 feet long, 30 feet 6½ inches beam and has a draft of 9 feet 4½ inches.

Clinic on Pellagra.

Pineville, Ky., August 19.—Physicians from many southern states today attended a clinic here for the study and treatment of pellagra. It is estimated that there are 15,000 pellagra victims in this state. The physicians were invited by Dr. A. M. McCormack, secretary of the Kentucky board of health. Sixty-three victims of the disease are in Pineville for clinical examination.

"NATIONAL HERO SERIES" NO. 6

William Wallace—Scotland's Great Patriot

FOR nearly seven hundred years the sons and daughters of Scotland have revered the memory of Wallace. It is not too much to say that this will continue for seventy times seven hundred years. When but a youth the love of Personal and National Liberty burned so fiercely in the breast of Wallace that he revolted against England's tyrannous rule. At the head of his gallant band of riders he won skirmish after skirmish, and finally, at the opportune time, quickly organized an army and routed the English at Stirling Bridge. William Wallace admired a good Barley-Malt brew just as do the Scotchmen of to-day. Prohibition has ever been a detestable word to the Scotch people. They will not have it enter into their private lives, and the Scotch vote is always registered by a large majority against such sumptuary legislation. In America they have done much to build up the country. Thousands of our solid Scotch citizens are patrons of the honest brews of Anheuser-Busch and have been constant users of BUDWEISER. They have helped to make the annual sales of this world-famed brand exceed those of any other beer by millions of bottles.

Welchonce Day Today---Caller King Dies

Edited By Dick Jemison

Today Is "Welchonce Day;" It's Up to Atlanta Fans; George Kircher on Lines

Box at 7 Edgewood.

Several of the fans who are unable to attend the game this afternoon have started a contribution at Ches Lagomarsino's place at 7 Edgewood avenue. The box was started yesterday afternoon, and will be kept there ready for donations until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Today is "Welchonce" day!"

Today is the day that Atlanta fans come to the bat in the "pinch."

We believe they'll "deliver."

Harry Welchonce, captain and center fielder of the Crackers, is desperately ill with the dreaded white plague.

He may get well, but it will take careful and patient treatment. This takes money. Here's where the Atlanta fans come in.

Today's game was arranged especially for Welchonce. The Atlanta baseball club is going fifty-fifty with Welchonce on their percentage of the gate receipts.

The baseball club has already treated Welchonce royally. They suspended him for the rest of the season—but at full pay.

Up to the Fans.

Now they and the sport scribes of the city pass the buck to the fans. Welchonce labored faithfully for the Crackers, sick or well, and nobly, too. He played when he could not hold his head up, just because he thought the team needed him.

Last season, it was Harry's big bludgeon that was as much responsible for the Crackers winning the pennant as any one thing. Welchonce played for the Crackers and Atlanta, and not for Welchonce.

When the Crackers secured Welchonce, a "sour grapes" report from Nashville was to the effect that he would play for his own record, and not for his team. Harry spiked the report as a falsehood at once by his work.

Harry Welchonce could have hit over .400 last season, winning the Rose trophy easily, had he been looking after Welchonce and not the success of his team, first and foremost.

Credit to Game.

Welchonce is the type of ball player that is a credit to baseball, a gentleman on and off the field, a grand fellow in every way, one deserving of all the appreciation that the fans of the city can show. We hope their appreciation brings him back in harness again.

He never murmured. He always played the game as it should be played. He played his heart out for the Crackers and the Atlanta fans. What are you going to do about it?

For our part, we pay our way into the park this afternoon just like any ordinary fan, and do it gladly. If any member of the press desires to go to the game today, they will cough up like anyone else.

President Callaway and Director Ryan, of the local club, have purchased their tickets for the game. The former has issued instructions to his gatekeepers not to honor any passes.

Kircher on Lines.

George Kircher is going on the lines to cut up his amusing antics to help draw the crowd to the gates, as only he can draw them.

The umpires in charge of the game are going to let George go the limit on this particular day, to help out a worthy cause, and in this they are due the thanks of everyone concerned.

Manager Mike Finn offers no objection to the coaching of Kircher. Mike realizes the good it will do at the box office, not only from Welchonce's side, but from his end of the gate receipts as well.

Let's make today's attendance and receipts the largest in the history of baseball in Atlanta.

If you can't go, buy a ticket.

If you've been going in the bleachers, buy a grandstand ticket today.

BABY GOAT MASCOT FOR THE CRACKERS

Harry Downey Presents Bill Smith With the Bleating Youngster Wednesday.

Harry Downey, the popular treasurer of the Lyric theater and an ardent admirer of Manager Billy Smith of the Crackers, Wednesday presented the local chieftain with a baby goat as mascot.

The goat plaintively made its presence known on the field before the game time and was then turned over to Sam, the negro groundkeeper, for safe keeping.

Bill has not decided what he will name the goat yet. Some have suggested, "George" in honor of the Crackers' comedian, but Kircher objects.

NOTICE, AMATEURS.

Claims of Championships Will Not Be Published.

The sporting department has been forced to make a rule that it will not publish in the future any championship claims of any amateur or semi-professional teams of the state.

The sporting department is forced to make this rule in self-protection.

A few days ago a card giving Eastman's claims was published. This brought a hot reply from Carrollton fans.

Believing that in strict neutrality The Constitution can best preserve the friendship of all the amateurs of the state, the publishing of such cards would in a way be assumption of partisanship on The Constitution's part. Something we are very desirous of avoiding.

DEARTH OF PIGSKINS.

War Will Affect Manufacture of Footballs.

There will be a dearth of footballs this season, if the present European war keeps up, according to Coach Heisman, of Georgia Tech.

"Football covers are made from the hides of pigs," said Mr. Heisman yesterday, "and the majority of the football manufacturers have been importing their material from Germany.

"But it is an ill wind that blows no one good," he continued. "The American hog raisers can demand a better price for their hogs."

Columbus, Ga., August 19.—Before a small but enthusiastic bunch of fans, Columbus defeated Macon by a score of 4 to 1 today. Camnitz pitched winning ball throughout, Macon's only run being made by a double to center by Weir and going to third on an infield out, finally scoring on a sacrifice fly. Loose fielding of the visitors was mainly responsible for Foster being hit so freely, several being infield hits.

Savannah, Ga., August 19.—Augusta took an amusing and hard fought game from the locals today, to 1, thus breaking even on the series. Wet grounds made it impossible to start early enough to play the scheduled double-header. Manager Brouthers shook up his entire lineup and the change worked to good advantage. Both clubs batted hard.

"THIRTY" WRITTEN OVER CALLER KING

Well-Known Baseball Operator Has Detailed His Last Ball Game—Passed Away Wednesday.

Robert Henry "Caller" King, the well known baseball detailer, has detailed his last ball game.

"Thirty" was written at the end of his last piece of copy yesterday afternoon, when he passed away at his home 72 West Harris street at 3:40 o'clock.

About a month ago, Mr. King was stricken with paralysis and about a week later had a second stroke. He recovered from both and was out attending to his duties, as best he could, though being unable to use his right hand.

Last Saturday he was stricken with an acute attack of indigestion, and was carried to his home in a critical condition. He showed signs of rallying at times, but three physicians were called in for consultation, when his condition took a turn for the worse Monday.

Delirious Tuesday.

Tuesday his condition became more grave and it was decided to move him to St. Joseph's infirmary, but by this time his condition had become such that no remedy could be found that would do him any good.

Tuesday night, the hospital authorities asked that he be sent back to his home. This was done, and he sank lower and lower until the end came.

A general congested condition of the entire system attributed to the stroke of paralysis and the following attack of indigestion caused his death.

At times he rallied and showed signs of getting well, only to lapse into unconsciousness, from which he would awake in a wildly delirious condition.

Wednesday morning it was predicted that his end was near and only a question of time.

Well Known Locally.

No man connected with the baseball game in Atlanta was any better known that "Caller" King and no one knew any more about the game from a layman's standpoint than he.

To hear him detail a baseball game was indeed a treat and large crowds always attended his matinees, especially during the world's series.

Mr. King had been identified with the baseball game in Atlanta ever since he entered the employ of the Western Union some ten years ago. He detailed games from the old Brisbine, Peters and Piedmont parks and was at the Ponce de Leon grounds every afternoon since the stands were first erected.

No one was more generally known throughout the city than Mr. King and his death is a general cause of sorrow throughout the city. He numbered his friends among the thousands.

Of an unassuming, genial personality, he endeared himself to all who knew him. Always the same, quiet character, with a kind word for everyone, a friend of every one he met, without a known enemy in the world.

Benefit Game.

He was 43 years old. Surviving him are his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. King, of Dublin; five children, Lunsford, Billie, Martha, Mary and Sarah King, of Atlanta; four sisters, Mrs. E. L. Farris, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. Hattie Green, of Macon; Mrs. C. I. McLaughlin, of Atlanta, and Mrs. J. T. Brinson, of Douglas, and two brothers, W. O. and J. T. King, of Dublin. Funeral will be held Friday afternoon at Barclay & Brandon's chapel. Interment will be in Atlanta.

Mr. King's partner in the baseball detail parlors on the Viaduct place, Dick Jemison, sporting editor of The Constitution, has arranged a benefit game for Sunday, August 23, when the Crackers play in Montgomery.

Half of the proceeds of this game will be turned over to Mrs. King and the children. The admission fee will be 25 cents. Tickets will be printed today and an announcement then made of where they can be purchased.

Mr. King's efforts to please Atlanta baseball fans is deserving of appreciation and it is to be hoped that the fans will pack the hall Sunday and those that cannot attend will purchase tickets for the benefit.

Buck O'Brien's Spitter Has Locals Guessing Throughout, While Dent Is Hit Timely

By Dick Jemison.

Buck O'Brien had his spit ball working in splendid fashion Wednesday afternoon and the Memphis Chicks won the first game of the series from the Crackers, 3 to 0.

O'Brien allowed the Crackers but four widely scattered hits and but twice during the game were they able to get men to third base.

Elliott Dent worked for the Crackers, and although he was touched up for eleven blows, he kept them so well scattered that for a time it looked like the Chicks were not going to be able to dent the marking pan.

But an error by Long, the first error that the Cracker left fielder has made in forty-six consecutive games, tallied the Chicks first run, and as subsequent events proved was sufficient though they added a couple more later in the game.

Some Star Work.

Dolly Stark did some star work at the shortfield for the visitors, handling nine assists in approved fashion. Incidentally, Dolly smashed out three corking hits, leading the Memphis attack. Dunckel, Schlei and Coyle got two blows each, aiding in the run-getting.

A great throw to the plate by Kircher cutting off a run in the seventh inning, was the fielding feature from a Cracker standpoint.

Long was the only Cracker that was apparently able to do anything with O'Brien's offerings, getting three line singles in four tries. Hack Eibel got the other hit, a triple in the fifth inning, but he was left there.

Schlei's single, O'Brien's sacrifice and Coyle's single followed by Long's boot tallied the first Chick run in the third inning.

Stark started the eighth with a single, but was forced by McCormick. Mullen flew out, but Dunckel beat out a slow bunt in front of the plate, which Dunn and Dent played Alphonse and Gaston over.

Lusk chimed in with a single to right, scoring McCormick and on the double steal, Dunckel who had gone to third on Lusk's hit, tallied.

Birmingham, Ala., August 19.—Montgomery checked Birmingham's onward spurt when Day bested Robertson, 4 to 1. The Birmingham batsmen were unable to solve Day until the ninth, when Wallace, a pinch hitter, singled, scoring McBride, with the lone run. Montgomery, after six scoreless innings, secured the lead in the seventh, when Donahue doubled, sending Parker home with the first run. Stewart's error, three bunched hits and a sacrifice gave Montgomery three more in the eighth. Day was invincible in the pinches.

RED CROSS DAY.

Baseball Leagues Have Set Aside a Day.

New York, August 19.—The National League of Professional Baseball clubs today arranged to designate one day of its championship playing schedule as Red Cross day, when a percentage of gate receipts throughout the circuit will be given for relief work in the European war. All leagues in organized baseball are expected to take similar action. The date of Red Cross day is yet to be selected.

M'LOUGHLIN REGAINS NEW YORK TITLE

New York, August 19.—Maurice E. McLoughlin today defeated R. Lindley Murray 6-1, 6-3, 6-4 on the courts of the Crescent Athletic club, thereby regaining his title to the New York state lawn tennis championship.

McLoughlin had little difficulty in outplaying his opponent. Brilliant rallies enlivened the match and spectacular shots drew frequent applause from a large gallery.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE MEETING POSTPONED

The called meeting of the Southern league, scheduled to be held in Birmingham Wednesday, has again been postponed.

The meeting was originally slated for last Saturday, but was postponed until Wednesday. It has been postponed again to today.

Only routine matters are said to be up for discussion, but it is believed that the meeting will develop something important.

In some sources it is said that Judge W. M. Kavanaugh, smarting under criticisms that have been heaped upon him this season, will resign as league head.

Some protests by various clubs are also said to be slated for discussion.

FIRST STATE LEAGUE POST-SEASON GAME POSTPONED BY RAIN

Thomasville, Ga., August 18.—(Special.)—The first game of the post season series between Thomasville and Americus for the championship of the Georgia State league was called off today on account of a thunderstorm.

WESTERN CHESS.

Four Teams Are Tied at End of Tourney.

Memphis, Tenn., August 19.—The end of the nineteenth round of play today in the annual tournament of the Western Chess association, the final of the scheduled rounds, resulted in a quadruple tie for first place and the championship. Herman Hahlbohm, Chicago; E. F. Schrader, Syracuse, N. Y.; B. B Jefferson, Memphis, present title-holder, and G. H. Wolbrecht, St. Louis, each being credited with a score of 14-4.

These players will start a double-round tourney to decide the championship. H. F. Lee, of Chicago, will referee their play as he has that of the tournament. E. P. Elliott, of Minneapolis, Minn., was elected president of the association today.

The 1915 tournament will be held at Lake Minnetonka, Minn.

RUSSELL FORD OUT WITH INJURED SPINE

Buffalo, N. Y., August 19.—Russell Ford, pitcher of the Federal league team, is suffering from an injury to the spine and probaby will not pitch again this season. Three weeks ago Ford was compelled to quit in the middle of a game because of a pain in his side. Ford believes he received the injury diving into a tank in California in the winter of 1912.

The department has set no date for divisional "C."

M'NAMARA SHOWS SOME CLASSY GOLF

Boston Professional Tops Qualifiers With Splendid 145—Chick Evans Barely Qualifies.

Chicago, August 19.—Tom McNamara, of Boston, today played the best golf exhibited in the elimination rounds for the national open golf championship at Midlothian, making an evenly balanced score of 145 as against the 146 made by James Barnes, of Philadelphia, yesterday.

The surprise was the poor playing of Charles Evans, Jr., western amateur champion, who took 79 for each round, barely qualifying with 158. Evans won the western title at Grand Rapids recently with an average of 71. A wrenched ankle and the fact that he had not practiced over the fast links greatly reduced his usually brilliant game.

The gallery today followed Evans, as it yesterday followed Ouimet when he tied with MacDonald Smith of Oakmont, at 148 for second best score, and consequently few golfers watched Tom McNamara top the field at 145.

Barring a missed putt in the last nine, the Boston professional would have had four thirty-sixes. His putting was only fair, but hole after hole he got what the professionals call a birdie, so that extraordinary work on the greens was not required to better par figures, which are 146 for a double round.

Since he became prominent at Englewood as runner-up to George Sargent, McNamara has been playing good golf and many professionals favor him to win the event this year. Today he made 19 holes in 4, 9 in 5 and 8 in 3, while many a professional had to take sixes and sevens on holes that should be made in four by experts. J. J. McDermott, champion in 1911 and 1912, was not playing as well as usual, taking 155. R. M. Thompson, of Glenridge, N. J., was second best today, with 149. Six men made 151 four took 152, while half of those who qualified took 155 or more.

As four took 158, those who today won the right to play in the finals Thursday and Friday number thirty-three, making the total contestants sixty-five. Of these eight are amateurs.

Donald Edward, of Midlothian, made the best amateur score, 152. His brother, Kenneth, was one stroke higher, while Jack Neville, Pacific coast amateur champion, had 155, as did L. Jacoby, Dallas, Texas.

Karl Keffer, open champion of Canada, failed by one stroke to qualify.

Late scores were better than the earlier ones, as a shower and darkness cleared away in the afternoon. There was no spectacular putting. In the two days of play there has been much putting that would not defeat a novice.

Scores of today's qualifiers:

Meadow Brook Tennis.

Southampton, N. Y., August 19.—Straight set victories were the order today as Elia Fottrell, Alfred S. Dabney, William Johnston and George Peabody Gardner, Jr., won their places in the round before the semi-final in the Meadow Brook Tennis club singles.

Gardner, former Harvard crack, defeated George L. Wrenn, Jr., 6-2, 6-4. Fottrell beat Bernard Law, Princeton, 6-2, 6-0. Johnston beat Dr. Alfred Stillman 7-5, 7-5, and Dabney beat Leonard Beekman 6-3, 6-4.

Peace may have her victories no less renowned than war, but she also has her defeats no less terrible. The present one seems to be a complete knockout.

QUERIES ANSWERED

(Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.)

What is the average age of the players composing the Atlanta team? E. L. H.

Twenty-three.

There is a runner on second and third. Batter gets a home run, but fails to touch first. There were two men already out. The ball is thrown in and first is tagged. Do these runs count? C. B. M.

The runs do not count, as legally the batter never reached first when he failed to touch bag, and for either run to score he had to reach first.

WHEAT AND OATS UP WHILE CORN LOST

Advance in Liverpool Market Main Factor in Advance of Wheat—Rains in Southwest Sent Corn Down

Chicago, August 19.—All board of trade markets, except corn, which was bearishly influenced by rains in the southwest, scored further advances today. Wheat gained 1⅝ to 2c; oats, ¼ to ¾c. and provisions 7 to 40c, while corn declined ⅜ to ½c.

Yesterday's reports of export sales, while unconfirmed, were still bullishly influential in wheat, as was an advance in the Liverpool market. Other influences favoring the price were the estimate by an English expert of a reduction of 54,000,000 bushels in the European crop and export clearances mainly from the gulf, of 1,256,000 bushels.

Corn reached its best prices under the influence of wheat, but reports of rain in the southwest started profit-taking under which the gain was lost, together with some of yesterday's.

The recent advance in futures was reflected in a lighter demand from shippers of oats. This market declined but recovered sharply on an excellent class of buying.

Higher hogs and a falling off in the western movement sent provisions up despite liberal profit-taking.

Coffee.

New York, August 19.—The coffee market showed a somewhat declining tendency again today. No fresh buying has been reported in the cost and freight market and the exchange situation is still so unsettled that local importers say it is practically impossible to finance fresh purchases in Brazil through the ordinary channels. The demand in the local spot market has became quiet and prices were a shade lower with Rio sevens quoted at 8⅛ and Santos fours at 13⅜. No official announcement has been made with reference to the progress of evening-up old commitments through the voluntary committee, but it was reported in trade circles today that such transactions are now being made on practically the basis of the ring and market prices of July 30.

UNCLE SAM EXPORTING GRAIN TO GREAT BRITAIN

The grain export situation on old business to [illegible]lish ports, says The New York C[illegible]cial of Tuesday, is clearing up r[illegible] but as to the continent conditi[illegible] badly mixed. A large quantit[illegible]in is leaving this country consi[illegible]o England, while in Canada se[illegible] vessels are being loaded and cl[illegible] as fast as possible.

The followi[illegible]s a summary of the exports of gr[illegible] and flour from the principal Atla[illegible]ic seaboard exporting points the pas[illegible] week; New York, 323,692 bushels of wheat, 5,355 bushels of corn, 69,369 barrels of flour and 46,055 bushels of oats; Boston, 456,991 bushels of wheat, 5,500 barrels of flour and 98,800 bushels of oats; Philadelphia, 311,000 bushels of wheat and 9,000 barrels of flour; Baltimore, 245,120 bushels of wheat, 100 bushels of corn and 1,859 bushels of corn, 13,[illegible]00 barrels of flour and 1,000 bushels [illegible] oats; Galveston, 463,000 bushels of wheat; Newport News, 168,000 bushels of wheat, and Montreal, 1,603,000 bushels of wheat, 44,0000 barrels of flour, 206,000 bushels of oats and 71,000 bushels of barley.

The total exports were 3,507,803 bushels of wheat, 71,955 bushels of corn, 351,855 bushels of oats and 170,255 barrels of flour. Of this wheat 3,040,892 bushels were consigned to United Kingdom ports and 521,882 bushels to the continent. Of flour total 80,210 barrels went to England and 12,003 barrels to the continent.

The following are the steamships which have sailed from this port since Saturday and the cargoes carried in the way of grain Minnetonka, for London, with 31,908 bushels of wheat and 6,998 sacks of flour; Saxonia, for Liverpool, 115,909 bushels of wheat; Ansonia, for Glasgow, 79 barrels of flour and 10,218 cars of flour; Cedric, for Liverpool, 82,051 bushels of wheat and 11,138 sacks of flour; Kroonland, for Llerpool, 82,051 bushels of wheat and 2,250 bushels of corn; Patria, for Marseilles, 31,762 bushels of wheat and 250 bags of oil cake; Rochambeau, for Havre, 1,240 bags of oil cake; Potsdam, for Rotterdam, 5,600 bags of oil cake, and the America, for Naples, 250 barrels of flour. This comprises a total of 275,525 bushels of wheat, 2,250 bushels of corn, 329 barrels and 28,354 sacks of flour, and 2,127,000 pounds of oil cake.

Besides these grain cargoes there were carried sixty-four pounds of pork, 95 pounds of beef, 2,168,250 pounds of bacon, 20,000 pounds of ham, 2,752,626 pounds of lard, 4,000 pounds of tallow, 606,800 pounds of grease, 692,000 pounds of cottonseed oil and 870,15[illegible] [illegible]ons of lubricating oil.

This total is by far th[illegible] [illegible]rgest shipment since August 1, th[illegible] start of the European war.

Grain supplies, especially wh[illegible]t, are piling up rapidly at points in England, particularly at Liverpool. As a result prices are declining rapidly. Wheat stocks at Llerpool amount to 2,256,000 bushels over last week. Corn totals 604,000 bushels, an increase of 34,000 bushels over last week.

WEATHER AND CROPS; REPORT OF GOVERNMENT

The following is the cotton region weather bulletin, published by authority of the secretary of agriculture, for the week ending Tuesday, August 17.

Texas—The weather was cool and cloudy, with local showers daily. The amounts of rainfall were excessive in many interior counties, especially in the north-central and northern portions where they ranged from 3 to 9 inches. The drought was thoroughly broken in all sections. Crops were injured by the excessive rains in some localities, but the greater portion of the state shows decided improvement. Complaints of the army worm and boll weevil are increasing. Dry, sunshiny weather is now needed in all sections.

Oklahoma—The weather was cool and cloudy, with moderate to excessive rains in the eastern and southern portions. Only light to moderate showers occurred in the north-central and northeastern portions, and more rain is needed. The rains came too late to materially help corn, but all other crops were benefited and much improved. Good yields of cotton and the sorghums are practically assured in the western and southern portions. The crops were damaged in some localities in the south-central portion by hail and flooded bottom lands.

Georgia—Damp, cloudy weather prevailed, with almost daily rains, this week. While crops continue to do well, the rainfall in many places was excessive, interfering with haying and cotton picking and causing a sappy growth of cotton. Late corn was benefited and hay and forage crops are especially fine.

Alabama—Frequent showers occurred, being locally heavy, and the temperature was nearly normal. Cotton is generally in good condition, but there has been some deterioration in the central portion. Rust and [illegible]dding are reported from [illegible] Picking is [illegible] truck we[illegible] showers, and [illegible]ing well.

M[illegible] much cloudiness and [illegible] over most of the state was unfavorable to cotton, but the deterioration was not generally marked. There are some complaints of rust and shedding. The boll weevils are becoming more active, but the damage thus far has been slight. Pastures and late corn are in good condition.

Arkansas—Cool, cloudy weather prevailed all week, with moderate to heavy rains in all portions of the state. Cotton made good progress and is in good condition in nearly all portions. The army worm is reported in Ashley county. Late corn is doing well and is in good condition; early corn is in poor condition and will be a failure in places. The rains are reviving the meadows.

South Carolina—Great improvement was caused by drenching rains over most sections. Young cotton is growing and fruiting well, but the weather has been too wet in localities. Picking has begun in the southwestern counties. Corn, truck and pastures are in good condition, and melons are specially abundant.

North Carolina—The weather was favorable, there being frequent well distributed showers and moderate temperatures. There are a few reports of too much rain, with some injury to tobacco. All crops are doing well, but some shedding of cotton is reported from a few localities. The curing of tobacco continues.

Tennessee—Showers, cloudiness, and moderate temperatures were very beneficial. Except in parts of the middle and western sections the prospects are for a good corn crop. Cotton and tobacco improved and generally look well, although the plants are small. The weather was favorable for hay, late potatoes, and vegetables.

Florida—Showers were generally well distributed, except over small areas in the peninsula and over most of the east coast where rain is needed. The rain damaged some open cotton in the northwestern portion. Cotton, late corn and citrus fruits are generally doing well.

Louisiana—General rains occurred and temperatures were moderate. Irish and sweept potatoes, peas, cane, hay, pastures and late truck and corn made good progress. There was too much rain for cotton in some localities. Rust, boll weevils, caterpillars and army worms are doing some damage and the shedding continues. Picking has become general.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Most realty men, as was the case with everybody else, yesterday were interested in the election and paid little attention to business.

The expression was general, however, that they were glad it was over and out of the way.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, August 19.—Cotton seed oil was firm early on covering of shorts, but later the list eased off somewhat, despite the big advance in lard, owing to selling pressure from refining interests and overcautiousness on the buying side of the market. Final prices were unchanged to 4 points net higher. Sales, 11,800 barrels. The market closed steady. Spot, 6.50@6.65. Futures ranged as follows:

	Opening.	Closing.
August	6.65@6.75	6.53@6.5[illegible]
September	6.62@6.69	6.53@6.5[illegible]
October	6.42@6.50	6.44@6.46
November	6.33@6.39	6.35@6.37
December	6.36@6.42	6.36@6.39
January	6.42@6.43	6.40@6.41
February	6.43@6.48	6.41@6.44
March	6.49@6.54	6.49@6.52

Exchanges Closed.

The cotton, stock and other exchanges of the United States, which closed on August 1, on account of the demoralization of business caused by hostilities in Europe, are still dark and will remain so until conditons improve.

Dry Goods.

New York, August 19.—Cotton goods sold more freely today. Worsted yarns have been advanced. Dyestuff troubles among textile manufacturers are growing more serious. American prints will be placed at value tomorrow.

Rice.

New Orleans, August 19.—Rough Honduras and clean Honduras and Japan rice is very strong and active. Quote: Rough Honduras, 4.00@5.10; clean Honduras, 4¾@6⅝; Japan, 4¼@4⅞. Rice, polish. per ton, $27.00@28.00. Bran, per ton, $18.00@20.00. Receipts: Rough, 11,812; millers, 3,920; clean, 1,939. Sales, 7,734 sacks rough Honduras at 3.505.10; 5,819 pockets clean Honduras at 3⅜@6⅝.

Sugar.

New York, August 19.—The first reaction in sugar prices since the recent excited advance of over 2½ cents a pound occurred today, when Cuban centrifugal 96 test sold at 5¼ cents, representing a decline of ¼ cent from the high record prices. It was understood that Cuban holders were offering raw sugar at concessions, as the recent heavy demand had been pretty well filled up.

Raw sugar barely steady; molasses 5.62; centrifugal 6.27. Refined firm.

Financial.

New York, August 19.—Mercantile paper 6@7.

Exchanges $164,302,298; balances $7,861,560.

Sterling exchange strong; rates nominal; for cables 5.04; for demand 5.00.

London, August 19.—(1.12 p. m.)—The Bank of England today resumed discounting bills on a large scale. The rush was so great in the early forenoon, however, that it was found necessary to suspend further dealings until tomorrow.

It is an ill wind in Europe, and if it is blowing anybody good we can't see it.

Friendly Relations

EACH window in our bank is numbered, the department represented is specified, and the name of the man in charge is shown upon a glass plate above the grille. The first two of these features ensures the greatest convenience; while the third, the simple matter of being able to address one's business associates by name, induces more friendly relations and makes transactions with this bank a genuine pleasure.

GERMAN COMMISSARIAT REPORTED IN BAD SHAPE

London, August 19.—"There appears to be very little exaggeration in the accounts of the bad commissariat arrangements in the German army," says the Brussels correspondent of The Times. "Prisoners brought in by the French yesterday had beet roots and carrots in their knapsacks. They had been living on these for several days. On the other hand, the French commissariat is working splendidly."

Has a Cure For Pellagra

Parrie Nicholas, Laurel, Miss., writes: "Seems to me if I had not obtained your remedy when I did I would not have lived much longer. I am glad you discovered this wonderful remedy that will cure Pellagra. When I began taking Baughn's Pellagra Remedy my weight was 60-odd pounds; now it is 90-odd. I would like to have this published and sent to sufferers of Pellagra."

This is published at her request. If you suffer from Pellagra or know of anyone who suffers from Pellagra it is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn, who has fought and conquered the dreaded malady right in the Pellagra Belt of Alabama.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off; sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red with much mucous and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope if you have Pellagra you can be cured by Baughn's Pellagra Remedy. Get a big free book on Pellagra. Address American Compounding Co., Box 2003, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure. —(adv.)

WIVES OF CANADIANS OBJECTING TO THE WAR

Ottawa, Ontario, August 19.—Canadian women do not want their husbands to go to war and are wielding the veto power bestowed upon them by the government with such effect that in some instances volunteer regiments have been thinned to 50 per cent of their membership. This far exceeds the government's estimate of vetoes. A protest against their action was made today by Colonel Morrison, director of artillery.

GERMANY HOPED JAPAN WOULD ATTACK RUSSIA

London, August 19.—Eighty Japanese students who arrived in England today from Germany say some of their compatriots were arrested, charged with espionage. Those arriving here declared they experienced considerable discomfort and all lost their baggage.

Before Great Britain declared war on Germany, the students say, the idea prevailed in Germany that Japan would attack Russia and the Japanese were well treated, but when it became clear that Japan, as Great Britain's ally, would not do so, the attitude of the people toward the Japanese underwent a marked change.

POPE PIUS SUCCUMBS TO GRIEF OVER WAR

the vatican for a time, owing to the amelioration of symptoms. He said that nothing early in the morning had indicated the grave crisis, which had come on rapidly. Shortly after he left Dr. Amici examined the patient. He explained that the sudden collapse was due to the pontiff's age and the gouty affection, which always combine to give bronchial catarrh of an acute nature a most serious character.

Vitality Diminished by Age.

Dr. Amici further explained that the pontiff's diminished vitality caused by old age might render his illness fatal. The practice of living in heated rooms and breathing the vitiated atmosphere, as the result of large assemblages in the papal apartments, was against him, and, he added, the people would now understand why the attending physicians were strongly opposed to the resumption by the pope of collective audiences.

At times during the day the pope had much difficulty in breathing. He suffered much from headaches and inability to rid himself of the accumulations in the lungs. Stimulants were injected and oxygen administered. Several times the pontiff revived and seemed much better. He then would speak to those about him and insist that his desires be executed. In one of these intervals he asked for Monsignor Rosa, recently appointed secretary of the Consistorial Congregation. Monsignor Rosa had been an intimate friend of the pope since the pontiff was Bishop of Treviso. As soon as he was notified he rushed to the vatican and was admitted immediately to the apartment where the pope was lying. Monsignor Rosa remained alone with the pope. The incident was considered significant, as owing to his present position Monsignor Rosa would be secretary of the conclave on the death of the pope. It is thought that the pope confided in him his last wishes.

Church Bells Notified People.

Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary, telegraphed to all the cardinals, notifying them of the grave condition from which the pope was suffering.

Later the ringing of church bells announced to the faithful the exposition of the Holy Sacrament and called them to prayer for the restoration of the pontiff to health. This gave rise to rumors of the pope's death, which the vatican denied owing to the many inquiries from all quarters.

Those close to the pope believe that grief over the war situation brought on the final crisis and so overwhelmed him that he was unable in his 80th year to withstand still another attack of his old enemy, gouty catarrh.

Ill health has been the pontiff's lot for many years, and intermittently the attacks have been so serious that the world was prepared several times to hear of his passing. During the summer there had been numerous denials from the vatican that his indisposition was serious. As late as August 10 last, upon the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of his coronation, Pope Pius granted numerous audiences.

Two days later it became known that he had cancelled virtually all engagements. His attendants reported he was unable to work and that he sat listless and silent for hours, evidently brooding over the great clash of arms in Europe.

His physician, Dr. Marchiafava, ordered his holiness to bed on August 16, when it was announced that the war and the intense heat in Rome had combined to depress him.

Dreamed of the Cruel War.

In bed he continued to dream of the conflict by night and to discuss it by day.

"I shall not cease to implore God to put a stop to this inhuman butchery," he declared. His physicians had to deal with this mental condition as well as physical suffering. Arrangements were made by which Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, would render his holiness a daily report of the war situation. The pope desired to see some way in which he might exert his influence to check the bloodshed and he was the more affected because any action seemed useless.

At the commencement of the European crisis he had addressed an exhortation to all Catholics of the world, asking them to lift their souls toward Christ, who alone was able to aid, and he called on the clergy to offer public prayer.

The break between Austria and Servia from the first became a source of great grief to him, for the vatican was most friendly toward both nations. He was inexpressibly shocked, he said, at the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir to the Austrian throne, who like all the Hapsburgs was an ardent Catholic and was sympathetic toward little Servia, with which the vatican but recently had concluded a friendly concordat.

Pope's Views on Peace.

The pope's views on peace, embodied in an allocution delivered at the consistory, at which he created thirteen new cardinals last May, constituted such a remarkable document that the Carnegie Peace union, founded in February by Andrew Carnegie with an endowment of $2,000,000, decided to begin among the clergy of the Roman Catholic church its educational activities in behalf of disarmament and arbitration by sending to each of the 23,000 priests of the United States and Canada a copy of this allocution. In it the pope referred to "men of distinction and force planning schemes for preventing the calamities of revolutions and the slaughter of war and for insuring the blessing of peace," which coupled with the fact that he spoke at length with the three American cardinals—Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell—was interpreted as referring to the efforts of President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan in behalf of universal peace.

"Today," he said, "peace or war in society and the state does not depend so much on the rulers as on the multitudes. Deprived of the light of truth revealed by God, unused to the discipline of Christ, what wonder if the multitude, the prey of blind passions, rush to the common ruin instigated by clever agitators who seek nothing but their own advantage."

MORTUARY

(All funeral notices appear on last page.)

J. R. Babbitt, Bainbridge.

Bainbridge, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—James Ridgeway Babbitt, son of Rev. H. T. Babbitt, for many years rector of St. John's Episcopal church, died here this afternoon. He was born in Middletown, N. Y., in 1856, coming to Bainbridge when 13 years old and had been a resident ever since. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mason Nesbit, of Bainbridge, with whom he made his home, and Mrs. George T. Cunningham, of Atlanta; a son, Pierre, of Philadelphia; a sister, Mrs. M. J. Knight, of Jacksonville, Fla., and a brother, Rutledge Babbitt, of Philadelphia. The funeral will take place here tomorrow morning.

Frederick Schoen.

Frederick Schoen died yesterday at his residence, 104 Windsor street, after an illness of nine weeks with typhoid fever. The body has been taken to Greenberg & Bond's undertaking establishment. He is survived by his father and mother, two brothers and a wife and one child.

HEAVY DROP IS NOTED IN CUSTOMS RECEIPTS

New York, August 19.—Customs house reports made public today show that imports since the beginning of the European war have decreased immensely. Imports for the week of July 16 were more than $3,000,000 above the figures for the week ending August 8, the last to be compiled.

The announcement of Ambassador Page from London that English steamship service had been ordered to resume has, however, resulted in an easier feeling in importing circles.

Late Pope Was Confronted By Many Grave Problems

Giuseppe Melchiorre Sarto, known to the world as Pope Pius X., was elected to the pontificate on August 4, 1903, and during his occupancy of his exalted office as head of the Roman Catholic church he was confronted with some of the most momentous problems, religious and governmental, with which the holy see has had to deal in modern times.

Pope Pius was born on June 2, 1835, at Riese, in the Venetian provinces, the first child of Gian-Battista Sarto, a postman, and his wife Margherita. Giuseppe's early career was influenced by the village priest, who took a liking for the boy, taught him to read and write and drummed into the youthful head the rudiments of Latin. At the age of 11 years he entered the seminary at Castelfranco, not far from his birthplace, and for four years every day he tramped to school, usually barefooted, until he reached the outskirts of the village, where he would slip on his shoes to keep up appearance.

From Castelfranco he passed in 1850 to the Seminary at Padua, and in 1858, at the age of 25, was ordained priest and took up his studies at Tombolo. In 1867 he had his first parish of importance, that of Salzano, where he remained for eleven years. In addition to his ecclesiastical duties Father Sarto contributed largely to the support of his mother and sisters, who found life a hard struggle, especially in the winter.

His eloquence led to his being called at the age of 40 to Treviso as chancellor of the diocese, and shortly after he was appointed professor of theology in the seminary. Nine years of strenuous work followed, crowned, in 1884, by his assuming the mitre as bishop of Mantua.

Leo XIII conferred upon Bishop Sarto the title of "Roman Count," and in the consistory of June, 1893, created him cardinal, giving him the Roman church of San Bernardo from which to take his title. He was so poor that he was unable to pay the fees connected with the acceptance of the new dignity, but some of his admirers came forward and provided him with the necessary funds.

Creating him cardinal, Leo XIII appointed him also patriarch of Venice, but he did not leave Mantua until a year later, owing to conflict between the Italian government and the holy see, over the right of the house of Savoy to be consulted before the appointment of a patriarch, the government having inherited the rights of the republic of Venice. The dispute was cut short by King Humbert also appointing Cardinal Sarto as patriarch of Venice.

The patriarch's relations with the house of Savoy were always most cordial. Every time that their majesties or the princes visited Venice he paid them a visit and presented his homage. He was one of Queen Margherita's confessors, and only a few months before the death of Leo XIII he was next to the count of Turin in public, when he (the patriarch) blessed the foundation of one of the new campanile in Piazza San Marco. He was the candidate of Leo XIII as his successor, but he so little realized the future that when he left Venice, in July, 1903, for the conclave in Rome, he bought a return ticket.

A "Compromise" Pope.

In the conclave the struggle was for and against Cardinal Rampolla, Leo XIII's secretary of state, whose chances were lost when Cardinal Puzyna pronounced the veto of Austria against him, which veto was supposed to represent the triple alliance. Then, needing a "compromise" pope, all eyes turned to Cardinal Sarto, who at first refused, but was afterward induced to accept the high position, being elected almost unanimously on August 4, assuming the title of:

Pope Pius X, bishop of Rome and vicar of Jesus Christ, successor of St. Peter, prince of the Apostles; supreme pontiff of the Universal church, patriarch of the west, primate of Italy; archbishop and metropolitan of the Roman province and sovereign of the temporal dominions of the Holy Roman church.

The pontificate of Pope Pius X was characterized by that spirit of modesty which never abandoned him and by that strong religious feeling which made him choose as motto, "To restore everything to Christ." The day after his coronation he was asked to give orders for his private apartment in the vatican, and while he urged the then young Monsignore Merry del Val, his pro-secretary of state, to occupy the gorgeous Borgia apartment, he himself chose four small rooms in the low-ceilinged suite above the state apartment of the pontiff, which under Leo XIII had been occupied by his private secretary, Mgr. Angeli.

Pius X desired to give himself up entirely to his work. In so doing he did not spare any fatigue, and giving audiences, admitting people to large receptions, celebrating masses, preaching, giving communion, reached such a point of exhaustion that while in the exercise of his priestly function in the Pauline chapel, crowded with people, he fainted, and thus started that report which pursued him every after—that he was liable to fainting fits, which was quite untrue, as that was the only occasion on which he suffered in that way, and it was entirely due to the heat and the vitiated air of the chapel.

That was the first opportunity for the officials of the vatican to step in, and on the pretext of protecting the Pope's health, attempt gradually to isolate him from the world. However, they were not always successful. One of the yearly American pilgrimages had left the United States at the beginning of July, 1903. On their way to Europe Leo XIII, who should have received them, died, so that they were in Rome during the conclave, and the day on which Pius X was elected and descended into St. Peter's to give his first benediction they were in the Basilica, with two American flags waving above the immense crowd assembled there and joining hurrahs to the cheering which greeted the venerable figure. Some days after the same American pilgrimage was in the vatican gardens when suddenly, the work of the officials having already begun, they were ordered away as the Pope was seen approaching. With true American determination they objected that they did not want to leave. Pius X, who understood something of what was going on, inquired, and Cardinal Gibbons who was among those who accompanied them, explained that it was a pilgrimage of his countrymen who desired to pay homage to the Holy Father. They had asked for an audience and were waiting for the appointed day. The pontiff immediately said there was no necessity to wait, and he would receive the Americans at once in the adjoining Museum Lapidarium. Thus Pius X received the first pilgrimage of his pontificate, held in his hands and blessed the two American flags which are still preserved, one in Rome and one in New York.

The Pope and Italy.

Pius X did not intend to change the substance of the policy which his two predecessors had followed towards Italy. His protests against the loss of the temporal power, however, lost the vehemence and bitterness which formerly characterized them.

The strongest of his protests on this subject was when President Loubet, disregarding the prohibition to all Catholic rulers and heads of states to visit the king of United Italy in his capital, was the first, with the exception of Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria, since 1870, to go as guest to the Quirinal.

This, however, was not only caused by the feeling towards Italy but much more by the state of religious war with France, which was the most remarkable event in the last pontificate, and of which many have attributed the responsibility to Pius X, while the hostilities had already begun under Leo XIII.

France found imitators in Spain, which passed in parliament bills against the religious congregations and the clergy, leading to the recall of the Spanish ambassador accredited to the holy see, and in Portugal, where the republic proclaimed on October 5, 1910, brought about a complete separation between church and state, the expulsion of the religious congregations and the confiscation of their properties.

While such serious crises were taking place between the vatican and some of the Latin countries, which had been known in history as the most faithful to the holy see, the relations with Italy, while maintaining in the outside form the usual character of hostility, were in substance much more cordial.

It would take long to enumerate all the reforms of a religious character initiated by Pius X., such as that of restoring the Gregorian chants, of preaching every Sunday from a text from the Bible, himself giving the good example by having as long as his strength allowed him, the faithful of the different parishes of Rome in the courtyard of San Damaso to hear him explain the gospel story, and carrying out one after the other as pope the same ideas and principles which he had confessed and advocated as bishop and patriarch. One of his undertakings will leave an important mark in the history of the papacy—the codification of ecclesiastic law. He entrusted the work to an illustrious scholar in Canon Law, Mgr. Pietro Gasparri, on whom he conferred the red hat in December, 1907. Another epoch-making task was that of the revision of the Vulgate, which he confided to Father Francis Aiden Gasquet, Abbot-president of the English Benedictine congregation, so well known as a learned historian.

Pius X. was determined to restore the most iron discipline among the clergy, and this led to an unrelenting campaign against that section of ecclesiastics who professed unorthodox opinions and were called modernists. The encyclical promulgated on September 8, 1907, condemned the modernists and their doctrines.

Modernist Leaders Excommunicated.

Following this several leaders of the modernist movement were excommunicated in Italy, England and Germany. The pope displayed even greater energy on November 18, 1907, when he reaffirmed the necessity of combatting by every possible means the spirit of rebellion, and ordered the bishops to watch and if necessary to dismiss the professor infected with the condemned doctrines and to prevent from taking orders those students who were suspected of sympathizing with the movement.

New rebellions broke out, and Pius X. went further in the struggle, with a new encyclical, in May, 1909, and more so by imposing the anti-modernist oath on all ecclesiastics.

The pontiff roused a storm of opposition, to himself entirely unexpected, by his encyclical against the Protestants in general and those of the German reformation in particular, on the occasion of the centennial of St. Charles Borromeo.

Another very important reform due to Pius X. was that of the Roman Curia, which was still ruled by the Bull of Sixtus V., of January, 1588. With this he reformed the offices, the ecclesiastical courts and the Roman congregations, withdrawing America, Canada, Newfoundland, Great Britain, Holland and Luxemburg from the jurisdiction of Propaganda Fide, removing them therefore from among the missionary countries and putting them, together with the rest of the Catholic world, under the consistorial congregation.

To Americans Pius X. was especially interesting. His great friendship for this country, his frequent audiences to Americans, both Catholic and non-Catholic, and his interest in American affairs kept him in closer touch with this side of the Atlantic than perhaps any other pope who had preceded him. He was an ardent admirer of Theodore Roosevelt, and the ex-president's writings translated for his reading, yet as it will be recalled, events accruing at the time of Mr. Roosevelt's visit to Rome led to the cancellation of his visit to the vatican. Former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks had a somewhat similar experience, and the incident created widespread interest in this country and in Europe at the same time.

HOW CRUISER AMPHION WAS SUNK BY A MINE

Interesting Account of the Destruction of the British Warship.

London, August 19.—The official information bureau has issued an interesting account of the sinking of the British cruiser Amphion by a mine in the North sea, which was first reported last week. After describing how the Amphion and the third destroyer flotilla had proceeded to carry out a prearranged plan of search, the report continues as follows:

"A traveler informed that she had seen a suspicious ship throwing things overboard. Shortly afterwards the German mine layer Koenigin Luise was sighted steering east. Four destroyers gave chase and in about an hour's time she was rounded up and sunk.

"After picking up the survivors of the German ship the plan of search was carried out without incident until 6:30 a. m. at which hour the Amphion struck a mine.

"A sheet of flame instantly engulfed the bridge. The captain was rendered insensible and he fell to the fore and aft bridge. As soon as the captain recovered consciousness he rang the engine room to stop the engines which were still going at revolutions for twenty knots. As all the forward part of the Amphion was on fire it was found impossible to reach the bridge or flood the fore magazine.

"The ship's back appeared to be broken and she was already settling down by the bows. All efforts, therefore, were directed to placing the wounded in places of safety in case of an explosion and in getting the cruiser in tow by the stern.

"By the time the destroyers had closed in it was time to abandon the ship. All was done without hurry or confusion and twenty minutes after the cruiser struck the mine, the men, the officers and lastly the captain had left the ship.

"Three minutes after the captain had left another explosion occurred. This enveloped and blew up the entire fore part of the vessel. The effect of this showed the Amphion must have struck a second mine which exploded the fore magazine. Debris falling from a great height struck the rescue boats and the destroyers and one of the Amphion's shells burst on the deck of one of the destroyers, killing two Englishmen and one German prisoner.

"The after part of the Amphion then began to settle quickly until its foremost section was on the bottom and the whole after part was inclined to an angle of 45 degrees. In another quarter of an hour this also had disappeared."

CROSS OF THE LEGION FOR HEROIC FRENCHMAN

Paris, August 19.—President Poincare has signed the nomination of Joseph Benoit, mayor of Badonviller in Meute-Et-Moselle for the cross of the Legion of Honor in recognition of his exhibition of energy and magnamity.

According to the official records Benoit's wife was killed by German soldiers who burned their home. Benoit later saved the life of one of the Germans who had been arrested and was threatened by the enraged townspeople. Despite his grief Benoit continued uninterruptedly the conduct of his office as mayor.

FLAG OF THE GERMANS BING SWEPT FROM SEA

London, August 19.—The Daily Express estimates that the number of large German vessels captured at sea by the Brtiish, French and Russian warships totals 200 with a tonnage of one million tons and a value of $300,000,000.

The paper says that there still are at sea about 500 German ships liable to capture at any moment. These have a total tonnage of 2,700,000 tons and a value of $700,000,000.

MACON MAN CHARGES NURSE WITH LARCENY

Mrs. H. C. Barber, 36 years old, a guest of the Folsom hotel, was locked up last evening on the charge of taking $45 from W. M. Dennard, whom she was nursing during a sudden attack of illness.

Dennard, who is a livery stable man of Macon, Ga., has been in Atlanta several days buying a car load of mules. Wednesday evening he paid the Folsom hotel clerk his bill, preparatory to leaving, and had $45 remaining. While in his room he suddenly became ill. He states that Mrs. Barber, whom he had never seen before, entered his room and began to bathe his head. Dennard says she must have taken the bills from the inside pocket of his coat. A complaint was not registered with the clerk until sometime later.

Mrs. Barber states that her attention was drawn to the man's room by the sound of groans. She entered and rendered assistance. Candidly admitting that she saw the money, she emphatically denies the theft.
